MIKE TOMLINSON '90

Can't crush this!!

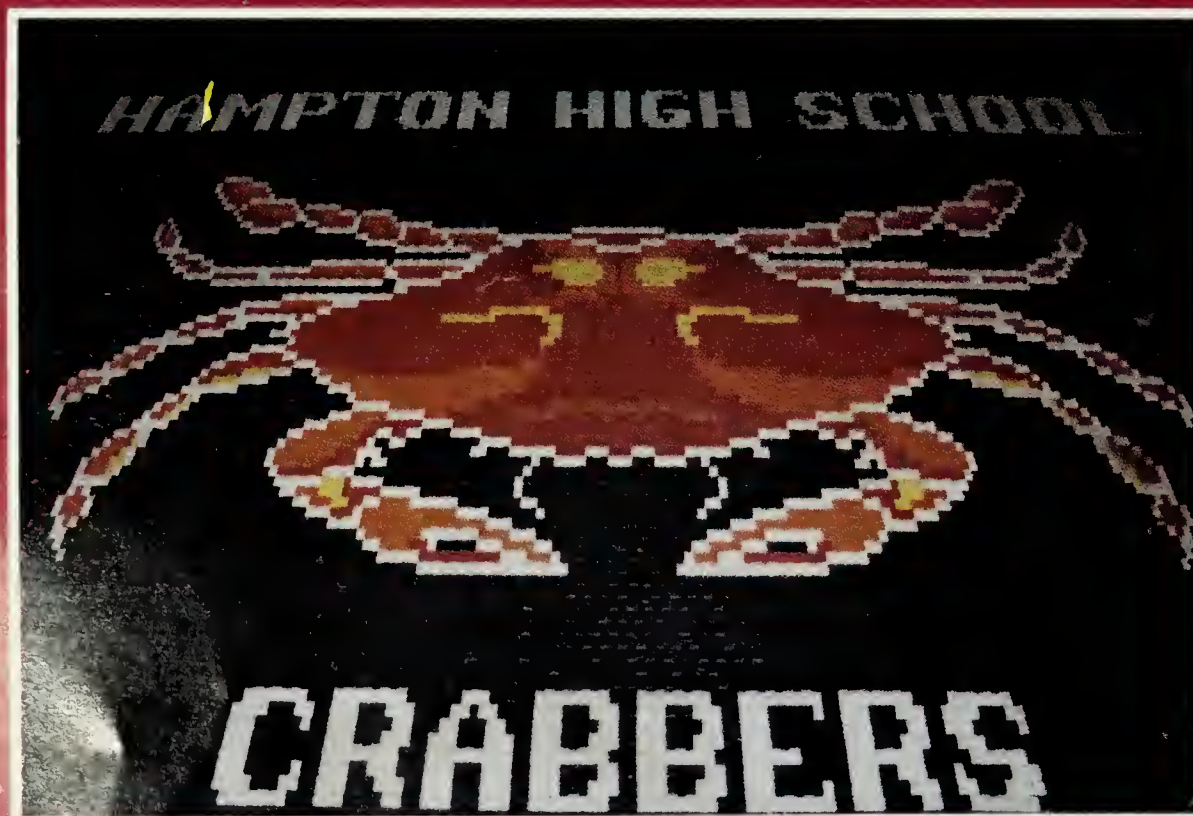

You Can't Crush a Crab
You Can't Crush a Crab
You Can't Crush a Crab
You fight, fight, rip and roar
Try, try, try some more
The red and white will always fight
You Can't Crush a Crab!

At the end of every pep rally, the four classes battle it out to see just who has the most spirit. Of course the seniors have the most spirit, but that is another story. There is just something about being a Crabber that sets H.H.S. apart from all others. Whether academics, sports, or clubs — Hampton High is numero uno! It shows on the faces of all the students who attend Hampton High; that Crabber Pride just shines through. That's why when the theme Can't Crush This was chosen for the 1991 annual, everyone was in agreement that this definitely sums up what Hampton High is all about.

Of course there will be times when H.H.S. won't exactly be on top, but Crabbers are far from quitters and are ready to jump back in there with pride and tenacity. Crabbers can never be crushed!

As M.C. Krabba says, "You Can't Crush This!"

Student Life

Living it up in high school can be a magical experience of new freedoms, good times, and of course some pressure.

One great experience of high school is dating. Dating is more frequent and parents have become a little more lenient. Dating can include anything from going to the movies, to dinner, to parties, to socials or dances, with the most important going steady. What good would a date be without any money? Some if not all teenagers have a job, whether it be part time or full time or even through the program here at school. Dates are not the only reason to get a job. Having a job offers the opportunity to buy clothes, tapes, compact discs, and that first car.

Another part of the high school experience is parties, which also seem to be the biggest part. The most popular place to have a party is Virginia Beach. Parties are a time for teenagers to unwind from the daily hassles and pressures of teachers, classes, and tardy bells. Another reason to have a party might be a victory party after a football game.

Having a good time is what high school can mean. Having a good time also means doing school work to achieve a positive future.

Melinda Gohr, Terrence Tucker, Win Nguyen, and Kir Thomas will never be caught doing serious work.

Mrs. Gibson is always happy to help students.

Uel Welch, Heidi Brezinski, and Chris Little are trying to catch up on their fourth period work while at lunch.

Keith Breault is trying to talk Mrs. Schultheiss into letting him use the phone.

SCA executive board members Susan Snill, Renee Johnson, and Jeff Graveline are trying to decide how to sell spirited bumper stickers and decals at back to school night.

Blythe Bowser, David Saudier, Gary Helper, Stephen Krupkowski, Liz McAdory and Todd Lones are clowning around and taking a time-out from school on their lunch hour.

Synthel Cook gives a smile of relief as she gets on the bus to go home after a long day of schoolwork.

While Amiee Sheppard, Heather Martin, Tammie Judge, Tasha Parker, Sia Butler, and Sandra Person wait for the bell to dismiss class, these ladies decide what will be featured in the next Krabba Highlight.

Scott Salter and Daminic Alsan, don't barr around during gym class.

The Hampton High School Band

Entertaining and supporting all school functions, the Hampton High School Band has shown musical excellence does not come without hard work. The band practices four days a week from 3:00-4:30 p.m.

The 92 member band will attend the Indian River Marching Band Competition, the Concert Band Competition at Denbigh, and the Busch Gardens Classic in the spring.

The band is divided into five areas: concert, field, parade, jazz, and flag. Each of those includes three types of instruments, percussion, brass, and woodwinds.

The beautiful melodies heard at football games and other school functions are possible thanks to Mr. Rick Allison and the student directors, Anissa Agee and Crystal Sessoms.

The Hampton High School Chorus

Over the past two years, the Chorus has been involved in many exciting events. The credit goes to the talent of the members and, of course, their leader Dean Shinn.

Last year, the chorus traveled to Daytona Beach, Florida and participated in a choral competition. They came back victorious with First Place, Best in Class, and with a plaque and a trophy.

On March 5, the choruses from both Hampton High School and Lindsay Middle School joined together to host the music festival in celebration of M-I-O-S-M, Music In Our School's Month. Also, in that month, the chorus hosted the District VIII Choral Festival which involved schools from Hampton, Newport News, Gloucester, York County, Williamsburg, and Matthews County. This year from April 25-28 the Chorus returned to Orlando, Florida with the Jazz Band for the national competition.

The individual grade levels of the chorus participated in different events: the ninth graders in a workshop chorus, tenth and eleventh graders in all-district chorus along with Menchville's Chorus. The seniors auditioned for honor's choir at Longwood College on October 8, 1990.

Congratulations are in order for Hampton High's Chorus. And congratulations to Mr. Shinn who made it all possible by his example and leadership.

Academics

Academic areas are of great importance to the students at Hampton High School. The ever-present pressure of S.A.T.'s, college and Advanced Placement classes make academics a priority.

One way students achieve academic success is by taking advantage of Academic Study Hall every Thursday afternoon. Here teachers from all areas are on hand to assist with any questions students may have.

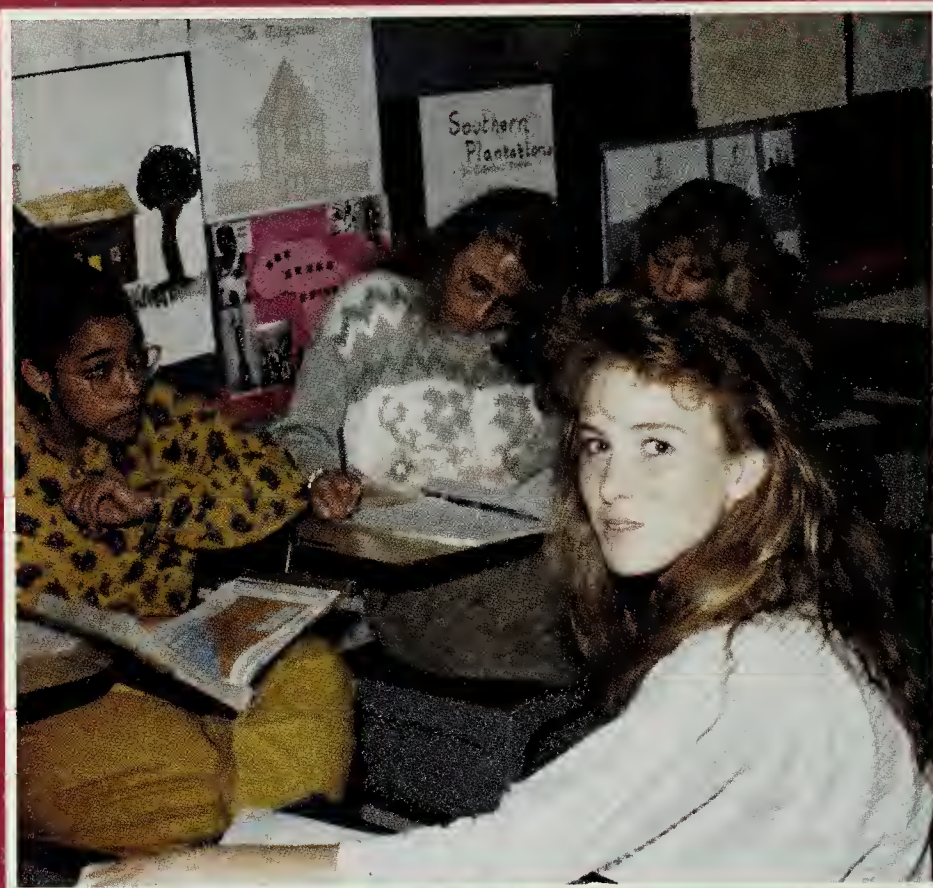

S.A.T.'s, which are of the utmost importance to the students of Hampton, are prepared for throughout the year. Both S.A.T. seminars, and S.A.T. preparation classes are available for the students. The class is taught by Mrs. Doris Dancy and Mrs. Joyce Weeks, who focus on verbal and math skills, respectively.

Seniors are facing the toughest part of their high school careers as college looms closely ahead. Striving for academic excellence is top priority.

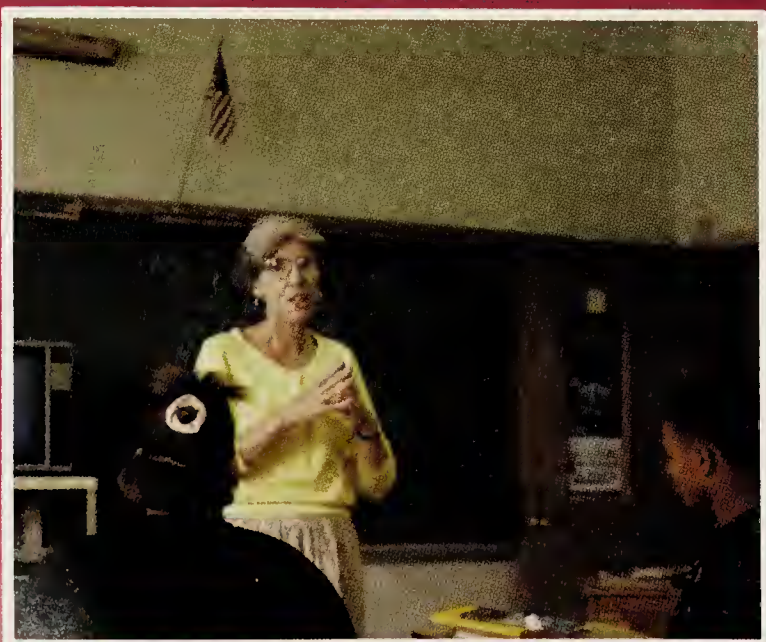

Hampton's "It's Academic" team is an off-shoot of academic excellence with its members, Senior Eric Scott and juniors Chris Almquist, Jonathan Golner and Ben Spencer, sparring with other high school teams for match points.

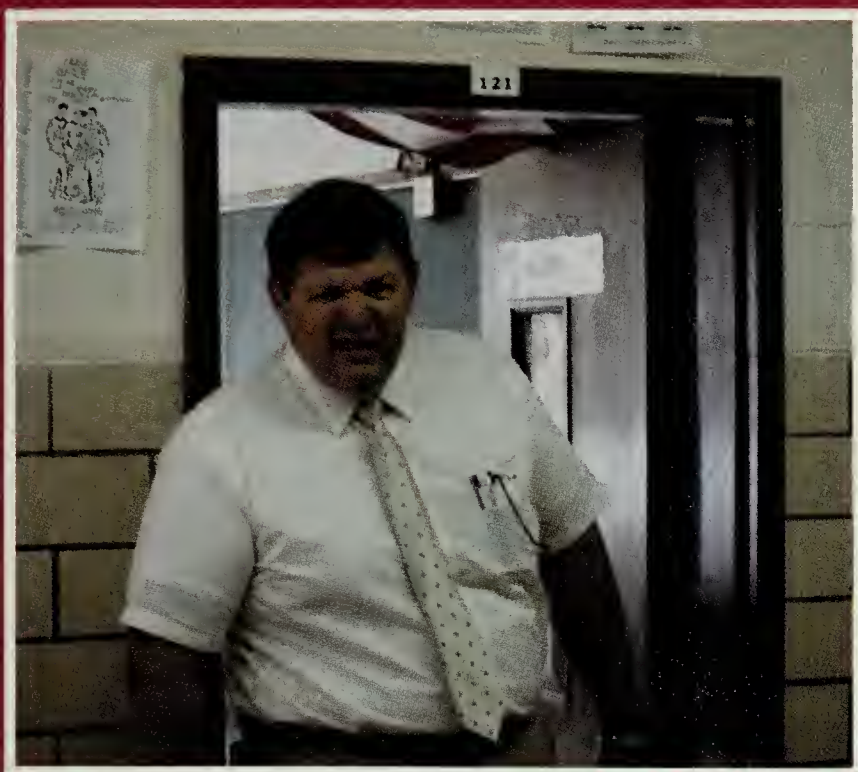

Academics plays a chief role here at Hampton High too as evidenced by the pride of Hampton in so many honor societies, which recognize students who have gained academic excellence either overall or in specific subject areas.

Academics is top of the list of priorities for students here at Hampton. The students realize that they are the future, and a good education is the only way to the top.

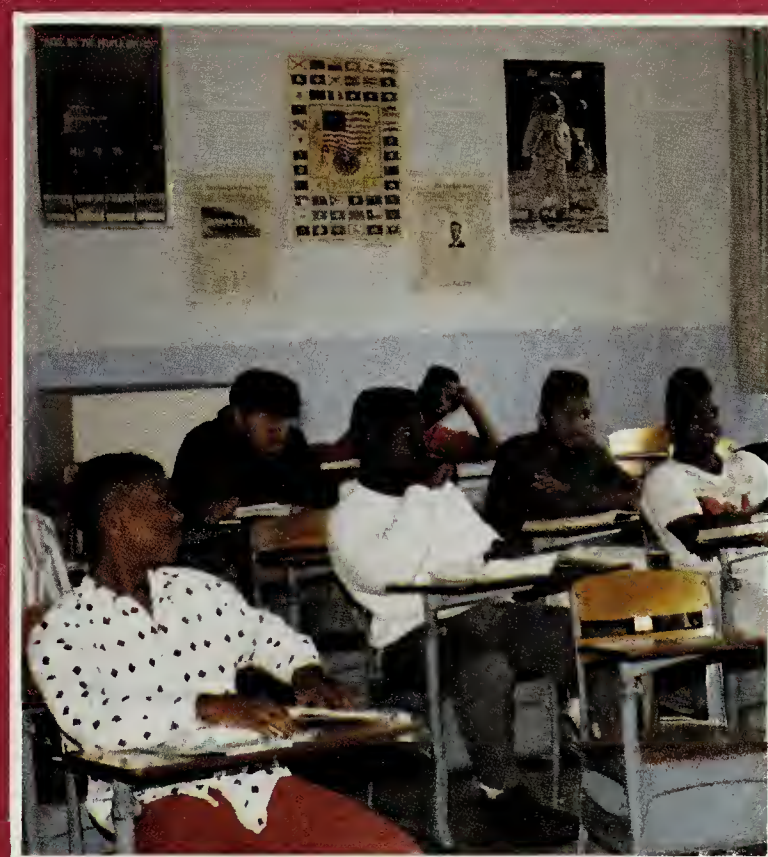

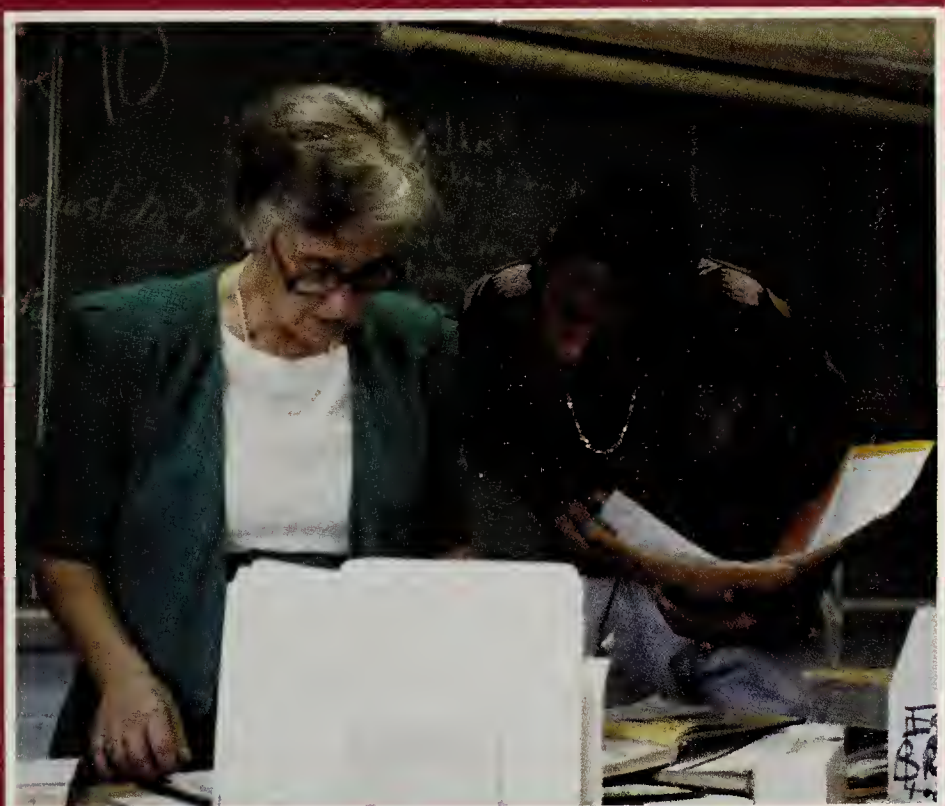

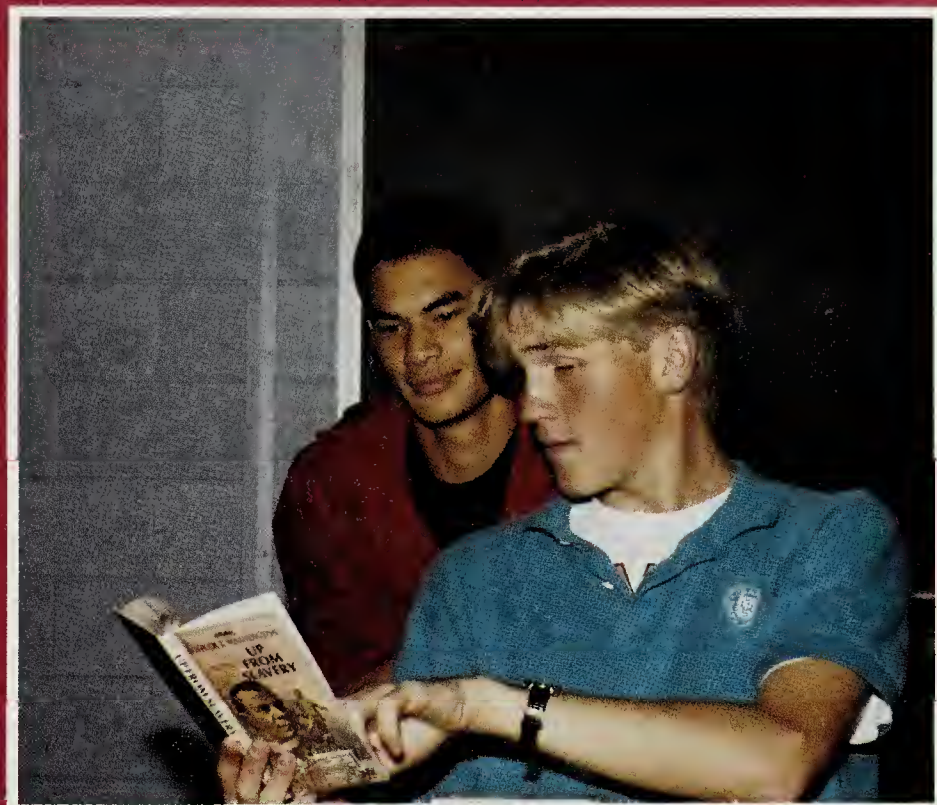

These gym classes are getting to be murder on the old body parts. How long do we have to hold this position?

"Just call me Big Bob Spain one more time!" says Mr. Robert Spain, a biology teacher.

"Hey look, a cuss word!" says junior Josh Smith to Phillipa Check.

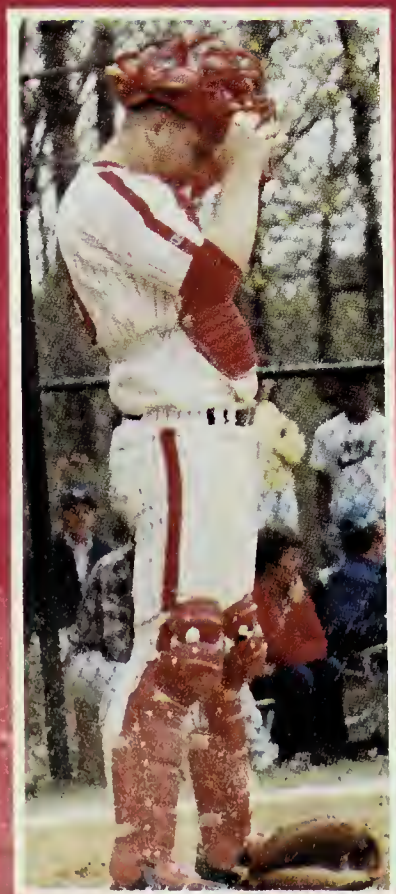

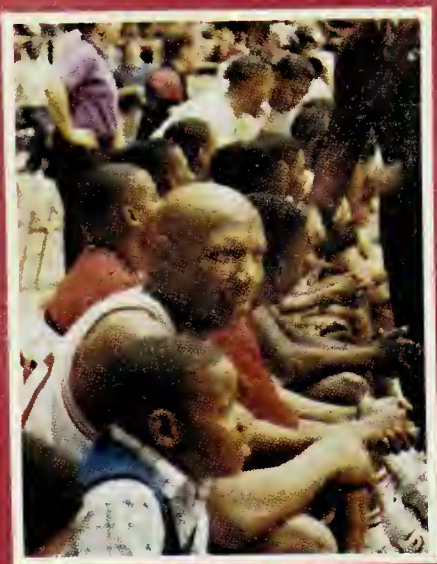

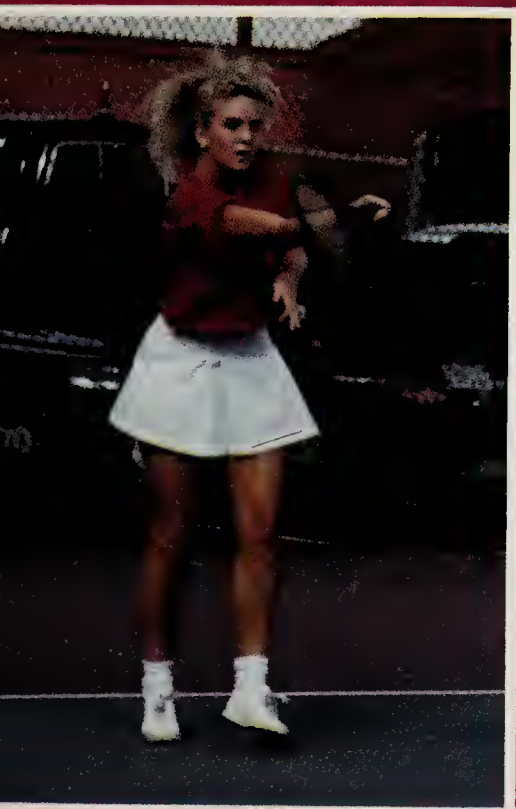

Seniors have to put up with the heat, the teachers and even more depressing events in the textbook.

A rare moment in time is when Brad Davis stays after school to get some help with geometry from teacher Diane Limerick.

Sports

200th victory

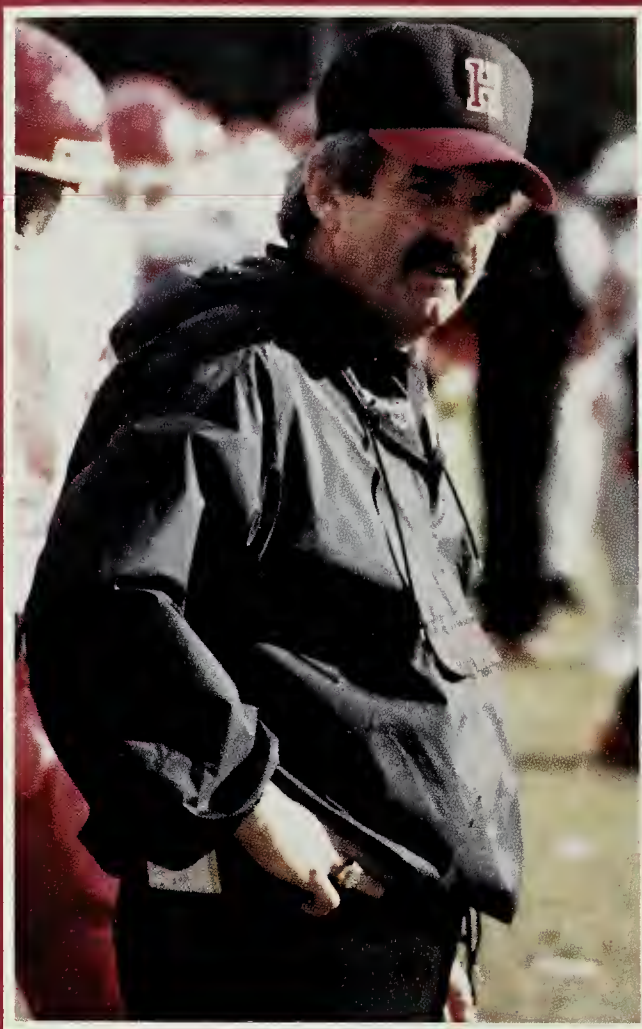

Two hundred victories in a mere 20 years is quite an accomplishment for Coach Mike Smith.

Coach Smith has been the head coach at Hampton since 1971. With a prestigious record of 200 wins, 32 losses, and two ties, Coach Smith's hard work proves to pay off. Along with many local and regional honors, he has been named Coach of the Year several times. He received the Virginia High School Distinguished Service Award and has been inducted as a charter member of the Virginia High School Hall of Fame.

Smith and a coaching staff of veterans such as Alvis Mann, Danny Mitchell and Walter Brower, have collected a record of 14 district titles, 9 regional titles, 2 state runner up titles and 7 state championships.

October 20, 1990 was definitely a remarkable day for Hampton High School and Coach Mike Smith.

Coach Mike Smith: his 200th victory brings yet another honor to his coaching career.

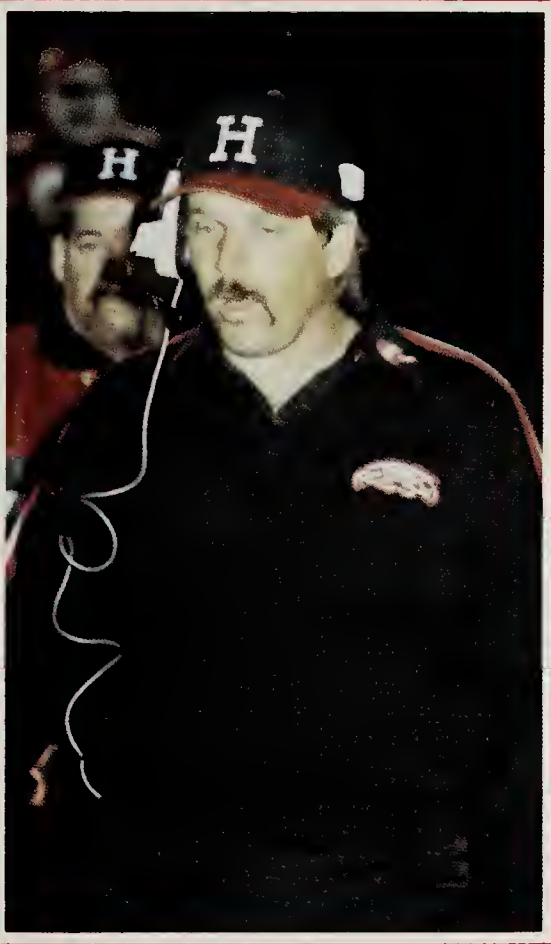

Mike Smith's eight year old son, Brian, is a sideline regular.

Quotes About the Coach

Being part of the coaching staff for 11 years has made Danny Mitchell an expert at listening for the winning play.

Coach Walter Brower who has coached with Mike Smith for 9 years, preps the team before going in for a new play.

Having coached with Mike Smith for 17 years, Alvis Mann plays an intricate role in the staff's victories.

Mrs. Trish Mitchell: "It occurred to me several years ago that for our football program to be district champs year after year took more than exceptional athletes. It had to be the coaching staff and all great accomplishments are the result of the one in charge."

Mr. Robert Croft: "It averages out to 10 games a year and that is a fantastic accomplishment. I expect that record not to be surpassed for many, many years."

Mr. Lowell Thomas: "Coach Smith richly deserves to be one of the charter members in the Virginia High School Hall of Fame. What everyone needs to realize, however, is that while winning is important to Coach Smith, the most important victories for him have been seeing the young men he has coached graduate from high school. In all his years, every student who has stayed with him all the way has graduated. That record is far more important than the number of state championships his teams have won."

Coach Alvis Mann: "Twenty years is a very short time to win 200 victories. Congratulations go out to Coach Smith on a job well done. I am honored to have been part of those 200 victories and I am looking forward to the 600th win."

Mrs. Vi Williams: "Now that's what is called a successful mission with more to come."

Coach Danny Mitchell: "An extraordinary feat for an extraordinary person. I was proud to have played for him and to be a part of his coaching staff."

Coach Walter Brower: "Job well done! This is something that most coaches dream about doing, but they never get there."

Mrs. Shirley McCracken: "Coach Smith has an incredible knowledge of football. But more important than this knowledge is his ability to teach football. A good coach must first be a good teacher. Seeing him inducted in the Hall of Fame proves what we here at HHS already knew — he's the best!"

Celebrating Coach Smith's 200th football victory are Lowell Thomas, Alvis Mann, Mike Smith, Danny Mitchell, and Trish Mitchell in the front. In the back row are Kenny Gillian, Simon Gupta, and Woodrow Wilson, who played on Smith's first State Championship team in 1975. Lannie Franklin and Joel Grey complete the coaching staff.

Celebration of the New Decade

During the week prior to Homecoming 1990, the Crabbers spent five spirited days which climaxed with the annual Homecoming pep rally. The results of all Homecoming events were announced on Friday. The Freshman class won the wall murals contest followed by the Sophomores and the Juniors.

The Senior class won the spirit links contest by a far stretch. The senior class sold over 4,000 spirit links followed by the sophomore class selling approximately 1,000 links. The junior and freshmen class followed respectively. The senior class was upset by the sophomore class in the spirit stick event. The junior and freshman classes trailed behind.

The five days spent preparing for Homecoming involved Spirit Week. Many students were involved in dressing up according to the proper theme. Spirit week was: Monday, Generation Day; Tuesday, Twin Day; Wednesday, University Day; Thursday, Tacky Day and as always, Friday was Red and White Day. Winners in this spirit contest were Generation Day, Cathy Rec; and Twin Day, Chuck Anderson and Derick Baxter.

Lastly, the Homecoming pep rally was highlighted by class skits. This atmosphere left the school halls echoing with the HHS cheer "Can't Crush A Crab."

As all Crabbers know, the perfect conclusion to spirit week is a parade and a victorious football game. That's exactly what H.H.S. got.

Following the parade that began at City Hall and ended at Darling Stadium, the Crabbers showed the Denbigh Patriots no mercy. Scoring two touchdowns in the first quarter, the team was in true form.

During halftime, the 1990 homecoming court was presented. Nine young ladies, including the queen, were chosen by their classmates to represent Hampton High. Freshmen attendants were Kesa Hamilton and Latonya Sykes; sophomore attendants, Shana Jones and Chmonica Peoples; junior attendants, Barbara Leseur and Kelly Shaffner, and senior attendants, Rachel Ballard, Tiffany Black, and Erin Myers. Tiffany Black, certainly a deserving winner, was crowned queen.

The final score of the game was 46-12 in Hampton's favor.

As always, Homecoming 1990 was a great success!

Brad Whittington shows his spirit any way he turns.

These lovelies wait for the final judging on "Tacky Day." Who is that exquisite creature on the far right?

"The Kings" marched in the Homecoming Parade, led by Monty Lane, Tony Dunstan, and Chevaine Middleton.

"Decade of Dominance" was the sophomores' winning float in the Homecoming parade.

Sherry Frankier passes on the Journalism float in the Homecoming parade.

Jay Crist was one of the best dressed on Red and White day.

The Crabbers stomped the Patriots in the Homecoming game with a whopping score of 42-12.

Seniors Can't be Crushed

Since experiencing high school life for the first time in 1987, the class of 1991 has grown and prospered to become the "Future's Finest." Throughout the years the Class of 1991 has contributed to the many memories at H.H.S.

This class has proven their dominance at Hampton, starting with winning the homecoming float competition in 1988 and having members of the class participate in the basketball and football state championships in 1988. The State Basketball finals in 1990 further enhanced the class's participation.

Among many other activities, seniors did an excellent job on Prom 1990, 'A Touch of Class,' the first taste of formal engagements and proving once again the class of '91 is "The Future's Finest."

Over the past four years the Class of '91 has lost and been defeated, has tried and succeeded, and despite challenges, they have become number one — 1991.

Class Officers

Four fantastic female leaders guided the Class of 1991 "The Future's Finest" through an exciting and adventurous senior year.

Tiffany Black, president; Monica Smith, vice president; Michele Dyke, secretary; and Allison Hayes, treasurer were elected by popular vote of their class to channel the energies of the class toward graduation.

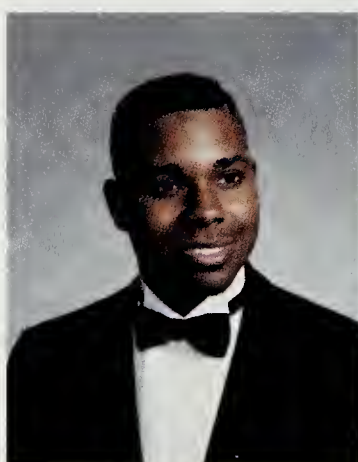

Along the way, the four proven leaders will monitor, organize, project, and direct the Class of 1991 to greater heights of academics and social glory.

Senioritis

Senioritis (N) — A feeling of superiority caused by the achievement of the ultimate level of high school education — i.e.: being in the Class of 1991. Underclassmen may perceive this as arrogance, but seniors, of course, know better. Senioritis is more than an attitude; it becomes a way of life.

Senioritis is the ability to walk through the halls and command respect. The inherent grace which a senior flaunts before underclassmen is the ability to handle pressures and responsibilities as only a senior can.

Symptoms of Senioritis:

The ability to cause underclassmen to clear in the halls; terminal tardiness, and absences from class; and a feeling of superiority that enables a senior to look down on all underclassmen.

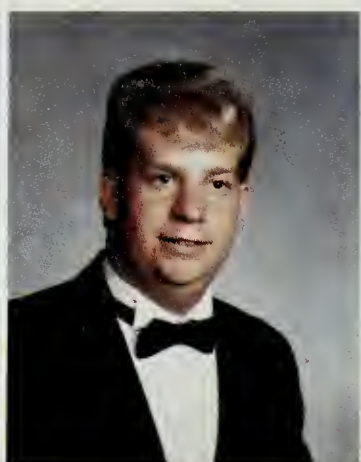

Those who possess Senioritis or any of these symptoms are cured as soon as they become a freshman in college.

Senior Jobs

Being a Senior entails many important responsibilities. Some of these include the attendance of 'important' social gatherings and other various events. Certainly, this takes a large amount of ready-cash. Those who are fortunate have parents who fund various activities. Then there are those who beg and swindle monies from friends and relatives. But none surpass the elite, the working class of 1991. These are the kids who take their own time to find and hold a job outside of school and maintain a passing grade point average. These are the real heroes.

Patty Warren holds a part time job at Orange Julius. She is also the president of the Anteauss Society at Hampton High.

The kids who work at school and then go to a part time job are certainly those who have an early start on success. To the working class of 1991, live long and prosper; the non-working class of 1991, may they learn to apply themselves, because the world is waiting for the day when they must work.

Seniors from HHS are serving the public every day.

Juniors

Special moments in a teenager's life begin in high school. A lot of people say that the junior year is the first really special one because everyone receives his or her class ring, a symbol of spirit not only for the class, but also the school. Ring Dance this year was on December 14, 1990. Junior year is also special because most sixteen year olds receive their licenses and a car which means more responsibility for their freedom. Part of that responsibility is driving friends to school, parties, dances or socials, and work. Prom is another opportunity for that special year to be complete. Juniors have always gone to Prom as part of the Hampton High School tradition. Another big part of Junior year is the time to start preparing to take SAT's for college admittance.

The Junior Skit was also another side of their creativity by showing the Soul Train Fashion Show of the Decade — '70's and '90's shown here with Charlene Fair, Tiffanni Stray, Nedra Blizzard, Tasha Davis, Ebony Parter, Keisho Reese, Nicole Barber, and Geraldine Simpsan putting their finishing touch on their skit.

Juniors are proud to show off their many talents, one of which is the Homecoming parade float which came in second place.

Class Officers

The junior class officers have strived to do their best at everything throughout the 1990-91 year. The leader of this outstanding group was Tammie Judge, President; assisted by Barbara LeSeur, Vice-president; Cynthia Hamlette, Secretary; and Rikki Thomas, Treasurer.

The Class of 1992 kicked the year off with a very spirited homecoming by way of the mural contest, spirit links, and a homecoming float. Shortly thereafter, the juniors celebrated the arrival of their long awaited class rings at the 1990-91 Ring Dance, "If Only for One Night."

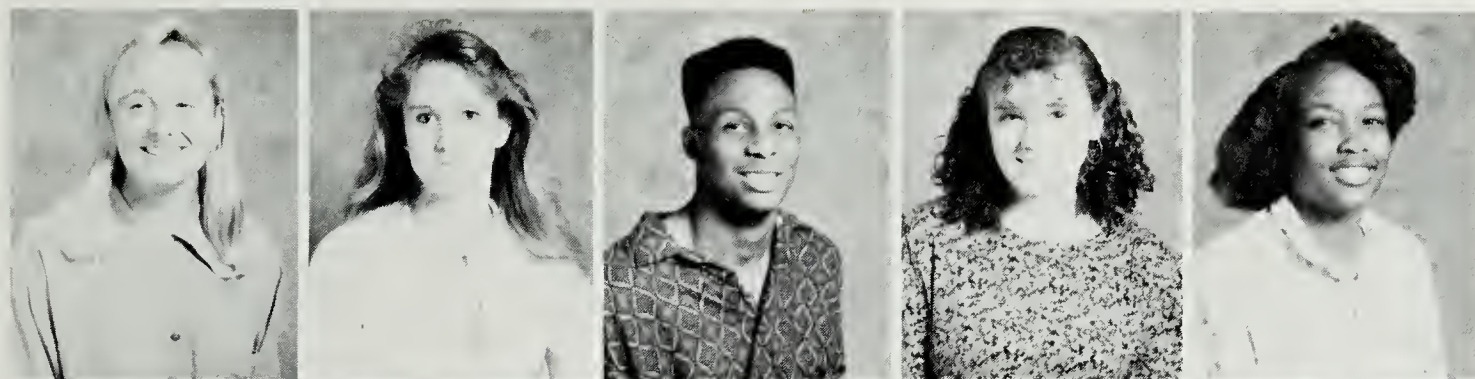

In the later part of the year the Junior class sponsored the 1991 Junior-Senior Prom which topped off a sensational year.

The junior year is full of memories and milestones; rings, Ring Dance, and Prom. With all of this comes a great responsibility which is cast upon the shoulders of the class officers. These four young ladies took it all in stride and were directly responsible for the great success of the junior class.

Driving is a Privilege?

Once one gets his driver's license it seems like the first thing heard from parents and teachers is "Driving is a privilege and not a right." This, of course, goes in one ear and out the other. All that can be imagined is the keys going into the ignition and taking off.

It seems glamorous from the outside, but in the driver's seat one has to worry about car payments, insurance, gas money, and basic car maintenance. Again, to this new driver, making the car acceptable to his peers is a number one priority. There is a tremendous desire for that "kicking" sound system that has bass like a thunderstorm, and those cute fluorescent hot pink trims that cause the car to glow in the dark.

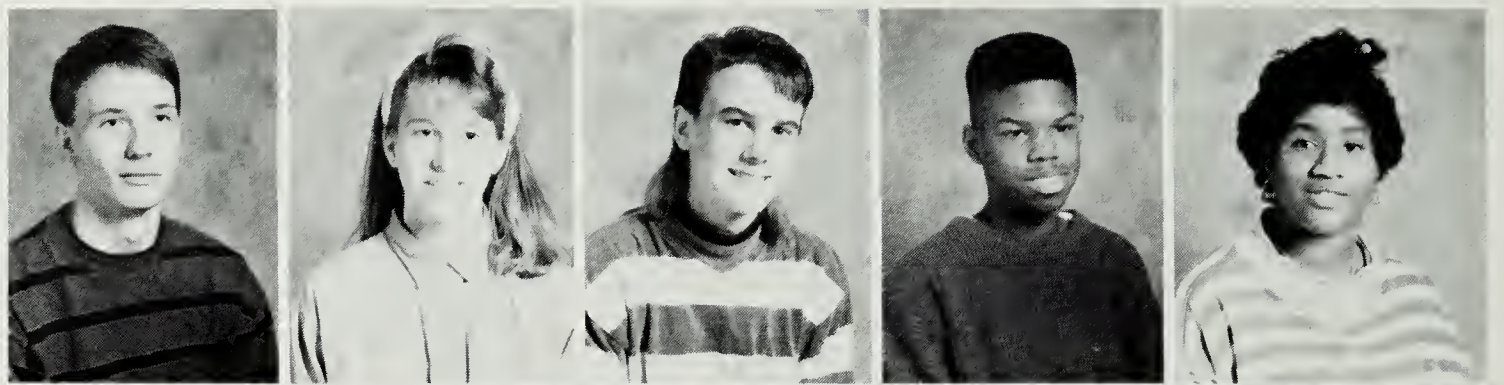

Fender-benders or severe accidents need not to be worried about, but rather what style of sun shade that is going on the dash board. In fact, there are not too many worries at all now; the parents have encompassed the massive responsibility leaving the junior with a set of "wheels." Do not forget what Mom and Dad said, "It's a privilege, not a right."

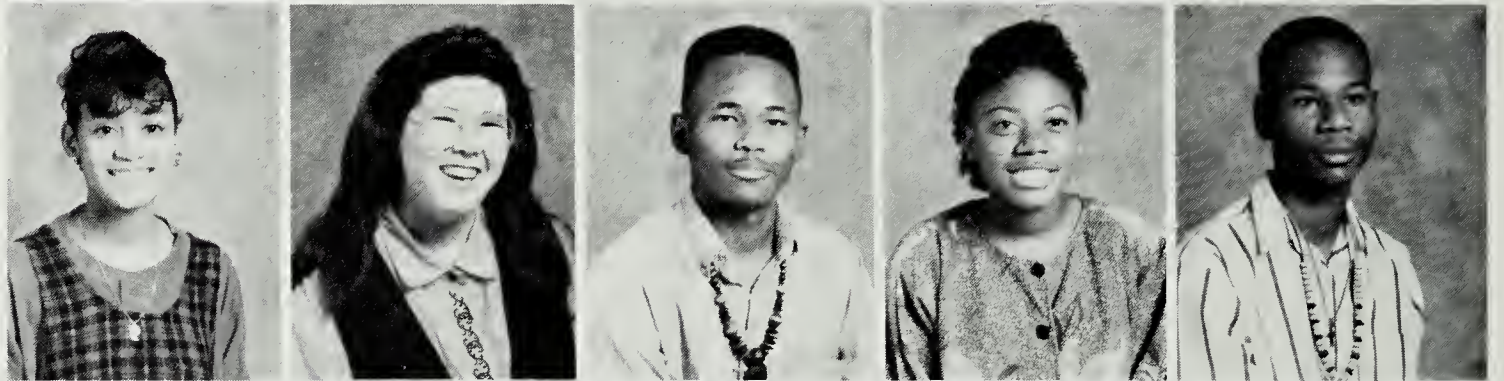

David Saucier and friends take his prize possession for a spin.

It's S.A.T. Time!

The time has finally come, the time that makes one wince. It's S.A.T. time! No one wants to take them, but they have to if they want a life after high school.

So, to make sure one does well, get a few pointers straight first. Eat a balanced breakfast with the four food groups, not the cake and powdered mini-doughnuts that are gotten out of the school vending machine. Plan on getting plenty of sleep; don't stay up all night watching television, eating, or talking on the phone with your babe. Most of all, calm down and take it easy; it's only one's entire life that is riding on the next few hours. Students must try not to be too nervous or their whole life will be washed up because they started filling in bubbles on the wrong line.

Students walk quietly and solemnly to the cafeteria, pencil in hand to fill in little bubbles for hours. The answer sheet begins to blur, then it is finally over.

Noah Adams sits down to prepare to register for the SAT test.

Juniors Have Spirit

Throughout the year, juniors have enthusiastically shown their pride in being Crabbers. At pep rallies their shouts have been the loudest and they have had big turn outs at all of the games to show their support. The juniors have shown themselves worthy of becoming seniors next year. Hopefully they will receive this honor with dignity and pride as they do everything. Juniors as always "Rock the House!"

Class Officers

These officers have represented the sophomore class in many outstanding ways, beginning with the winning of spirit competition and the homecoming float contest. This class has matured considerably since entering H.H.S. in 1989.

The sophomore class officers for the year 1990-91 are Chamonica Peoples, president, Aisha Braitwaite, vice-president; Heather Martin, secretary; and Danielle Sunday, treasurer.

Here Come the Drivers!

Being a sophomore can mean many fun experiences. One of these is the wonderful world of driving. Every student starts off with the class room course in Driver Education. This lasts a quarter. Then the final day of reckoning arrives — signing up for Behind the Wheel which is held at Phoebus High School. Behind the Wheel is an experience in itself.

Behind the Wheel is required and students must pay a fee. Most students would probably sell their school books if necessary to attend, since it is one of the state's requirements for obtaining a license.

When asked their opinion on what they gained from Driver Education these were some of the responses:

"Getting a license can mean a certain freedom and less dependence on parents for transportation," said Nikki Harris.

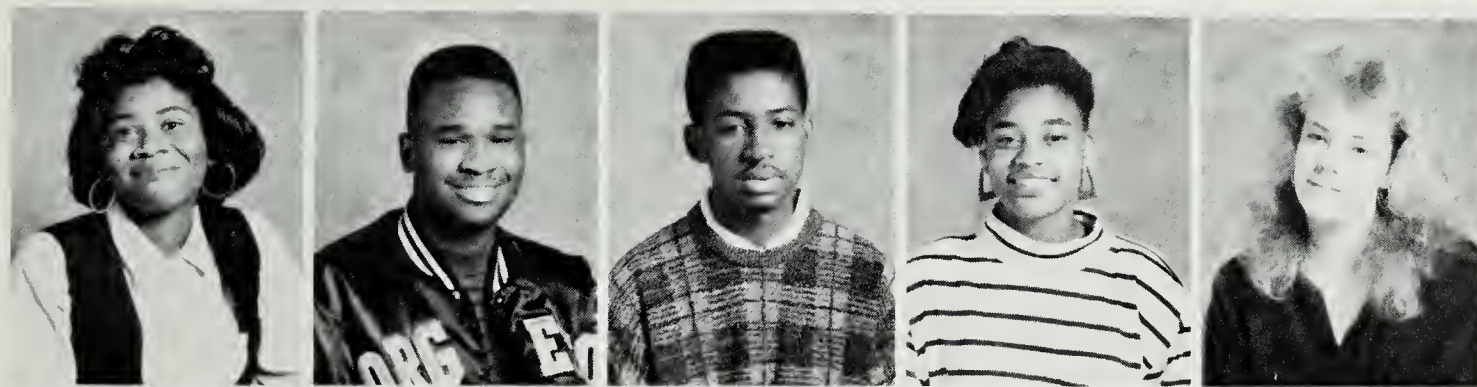

Thomas Marcus remarked, "It's important to take Driver Education to learn how to drive properly."

"I like it and it gives great emphasis on the use of drugs and alcohol and driving doesn't mix," stated Ricky Banks.

Chandler Abbott points Jay Rice in the right direction.

In Memorium

For Steven Voigt
By Ellen Meyers
September 29, 1990

Sunny days turn cold,
Hearts fill with plenty of woe.

Tears have fallen with lots of care
People staring into space,
Hoping and preying it's not a lost case.

But time has come to move on in life

And keep plenty of memories locked up inside.

He is with us all today
Watching over us as we pray

Just tell him you love him and put on a grin
That's the way he would have wanted it to have been.

"We love you Steve"

Middle Child

To be a sophomore is like being a middle child. You are not the oldest, and you are no longer the baby.

The seniors and juniors are like the big brothers and sisters; the top of the school. The freshmen are the babies or "the brats." The sophomores are stuck right in the middle, and perhaps the ones that never really get recognized.

It's tough to be a sophomore. They are still referred to as underclassmen and most of the time do not have a drivers' license, so they are spending a lot of their Friday nights trying to bum rides to where everything is happening. The seniors receive a lot of attention because of graduation and prom. The juniors get class rings, have a Ring Dance, and take SAT's. The freshmen have to be given special attention because it is their first year here. So, that leaves the sophomores out there in the blue.

Hold out all you left out sophomores, your time will soon arrive.

Class Officers

The 1990-91 school year has been exciting for the freshman class. Not only did they show strong school spirit at pep rallies, but they also elected some of the best class officers around.

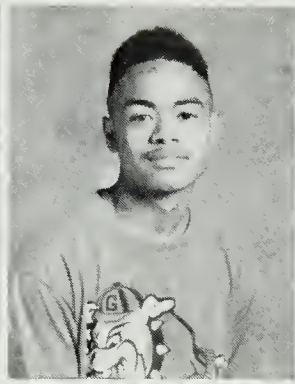

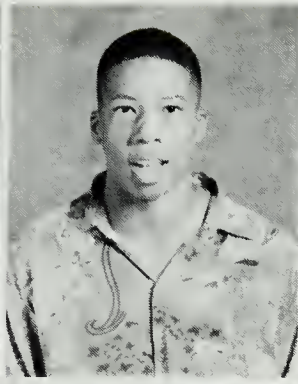

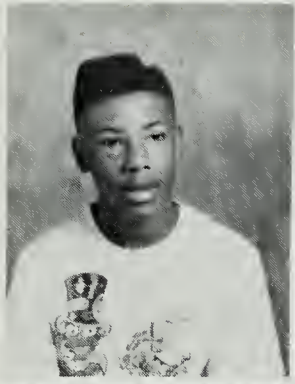

Elected were Nazy Miamee, president; Jessica Wheeler, vice-president; Jodie Pettaway, treasurer; Shawn Tillistone, secretary.

These young ladies did a wonderful job and performed all assigned duties. Their leadership will not just stop at the "Baby Crabbers," but most likely will continue throughout the rest of their years at Hampton High.

Freshmen Social Life

What is social life like as a freshman? A trip to the mall to hang out, a football game, or if they are lucky, an occasional date.

Freshmen are socially in an in-between stage. In junior high the mall was generally the spot to hang out. Most parents trusted kids at the mall, and were glad to take them there. In high school, however, there are parties, dates, and many other activities that are new to freshmen. Despite all of these new social opportunities, freshmen usually still end up at the mall or a football game, because their parents do not yet approve of these new things.

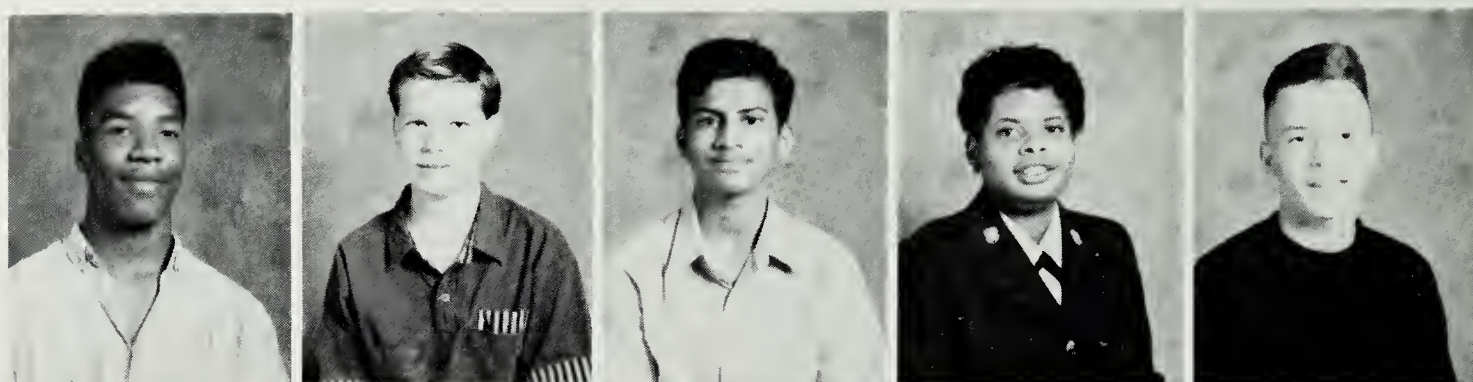

Transportation also poses a problem. Dating is discouraged since many freshmen are not allowed to date or to ride with older drivers, and most are too embarrassed to let their parents do the driving.

Due to the many barriers freshmen face concerning social life, all they can do is look forward to the next year when many receive driver's licenses and more freedom.

Alien Life Forms: the Class of '94

Imagine an environment that is totally alien. The structure is unfamiliar, the flow of traffic different from anything previously encountered, and everyone seems to treat you like a second class citizen. This environment seems hostile towards anyone like you. If you can imagine this, you know what it's like to be a freshman.

On the whole, freshmen have a lot of adjustments to make to the environment of high school. They are seemingly reduced to beings that are barely human and are shown almost no respect.

Freshmen have to induce being handled by upperclassmen as secondary citizens. They are nearly trampled by upperclassmen, and unfortunately treated with all but no respect from the seniors.

But freshmen, in the true Crabber spirit, grow, adjust, and survive the trials and tribulations of both high school and being a freshman. And like true Crabbers, come out on top.

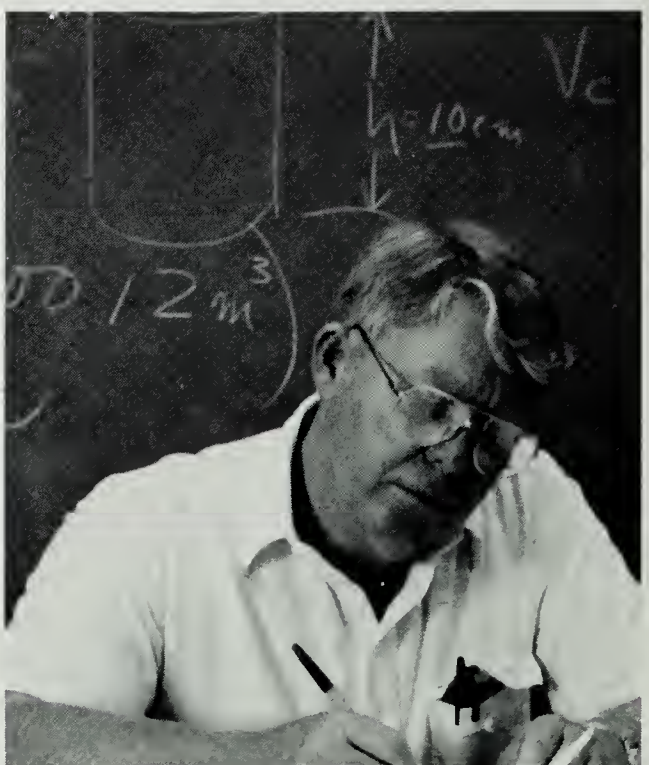

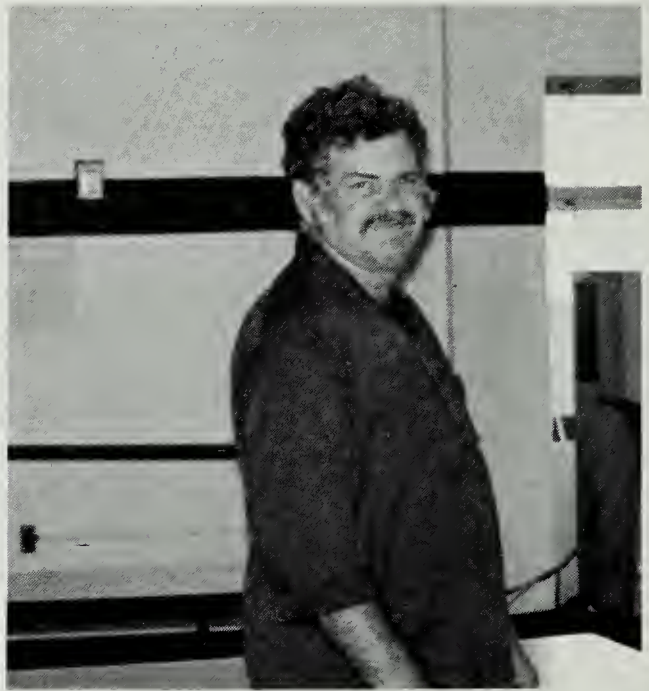

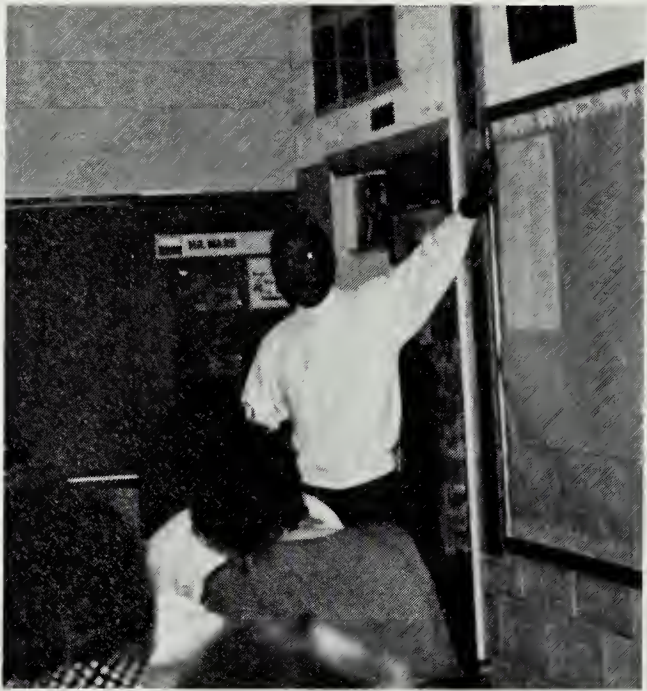

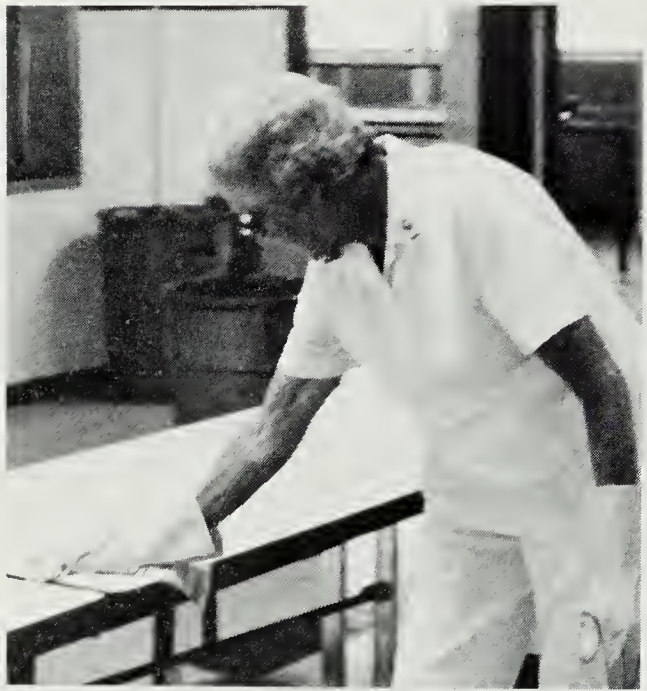

Freshmen, the "New Kids on the Block" travel by bus (something alien to anyone else); cluster outside in quiet groups (it restores sanity); line up in strange formations (why are they doing this?); and wear extra-terrestrial outfits, as Randy Tisdale, Tinea Stray, and Larry White display.

Guidance Department

The Guidance staff here at Hampton High is on the ball! They are always here to give assistance and do what they can to make students' lives a lot easier. From scholarship information to getting schedules straight, the Guidance staff is patient, understanding, and excellent problem solvers. Without this group, no one could function! No matter how big or small the problem, there is always a counselor there ready to assist.

Mrs. Olive Hopson poses for the camera.

Mrs. Lynda Leech, Mrs. Carolyn Bradley, and Mrs. Berry Davis at yet another day of hard work.

Dr. Vickie Vaughn-Gill expertly counsels a student.

Mrs. Lynda Leech is surprised by the camera during the telephone call.

Library Staff

Situated in the middle of the building, snuggled in between science rooms, the library is a cool haven in the spring and fall and a warm one in the winter.

Thousands of volumes of books are available on any and every subject. Whatever is needed can be found on some shelf. The librarians are there from 7:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. to help students find an enjoyable book or the answer to that last minute question. Newsbank, Cd Rom, and Apple Computers are available for daily use. Even records may be checked out as needed.

Mrs. Connie Scott, assisted by Mrs. Gina Drifmeyer, Mrs. Millie Warren and Mrs. Brownie Woodell, plan exciting promotions, give book talks, and direct students and teachers to levels of greater understanding.

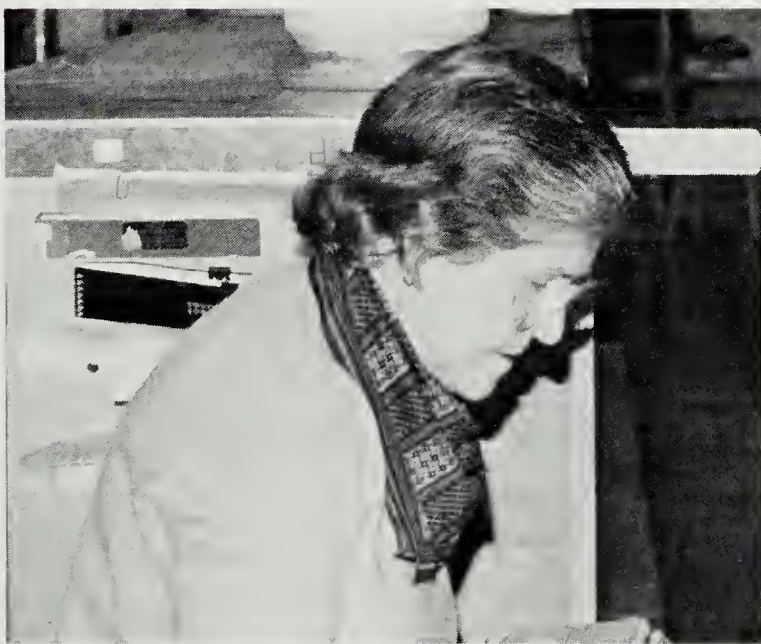

Ben Spencer and a fellow student look up information on the micro fiche.

It must be time for a research paper. This class assisted by Mrs. Gina Drifmeyer is working hard in the reference.

Mrs. Brownie Woodell demonstrates computer efficiency while Mrs. Gina Drifmeyer, Mrs. Millie Warren, and Mrs. Connie Scott look on.

Mrs. Brownie Woodell prepares to set up the check-out desk for the day's work.

Mrs. Millie Warren checks out books for Allen Clinton, a junior.

Office Personnel

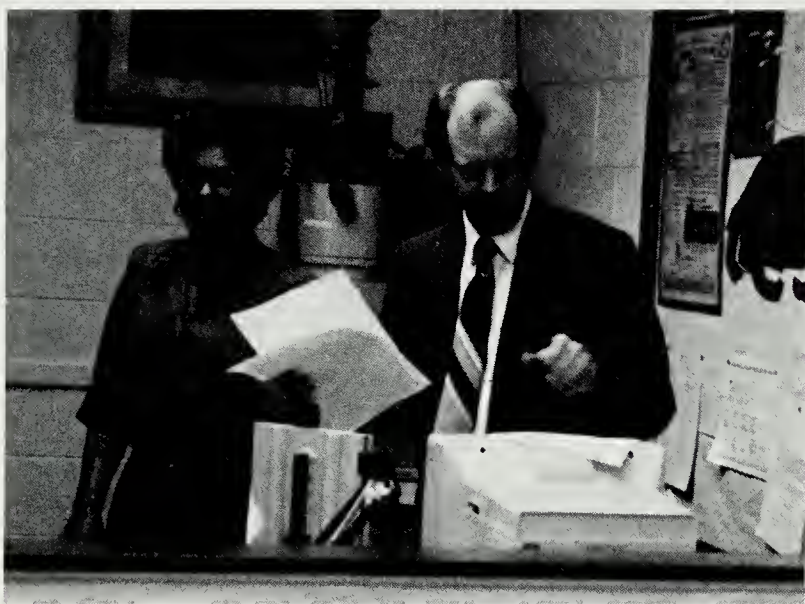

The main office is always a hub-bub of activity. From early in the morning until long after the last student is gone, the office staff is busy at work. Mrs. Marjorie Brannon, Mrs. Barbara Schultheis, and Mrs. Claudette Orie keep the entire school moving and everything straight and orderly.

Students must go to receive notes and messages, pay fees, buy various tickets and decals, and meet with certain administrators. These ladies must be able to answer all of the questions, supply all the materials wanted, make copies of tests and other items and still have time to keep the school records, type correspondence, and answer the phones.

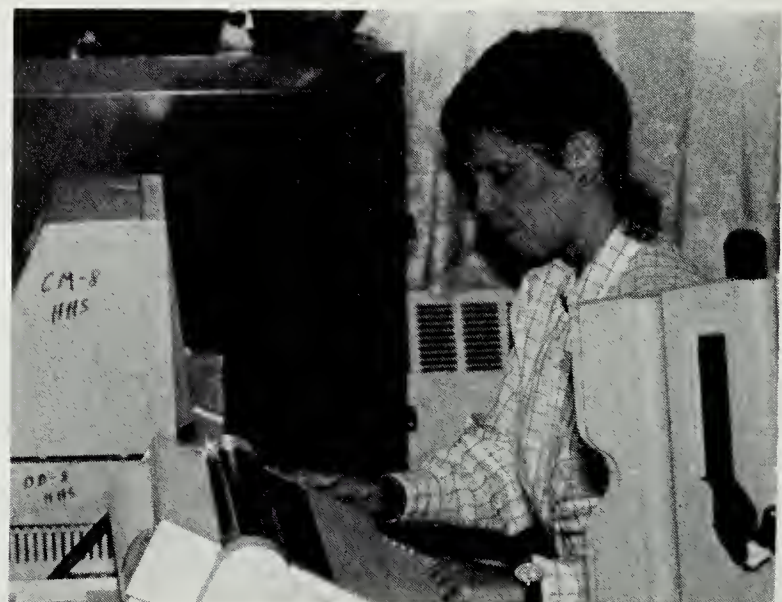

Being a member of the office staff appears to be no easy job. On the other hand, it seems to never be boring. Despite the situation, Mrs. Brannon and the others, meet each challenge with a positive attitude.

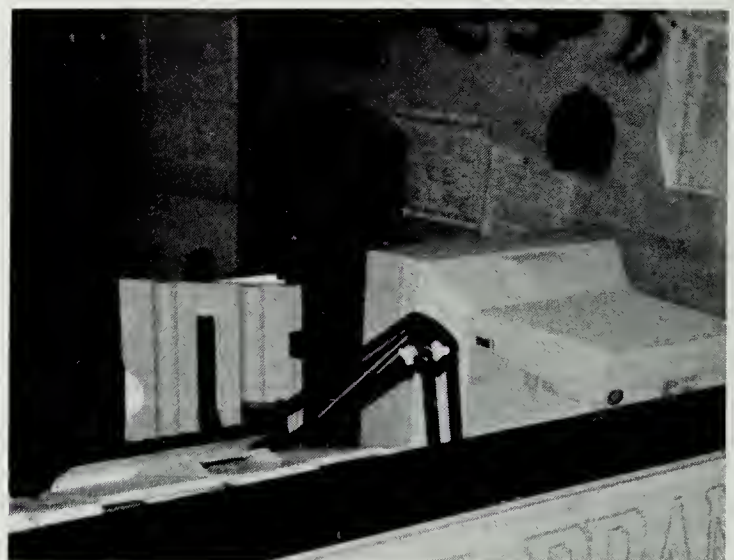

Mrs. Marjorie Brannon fills in for the school bookkeeper, Mrs. Claudette Orie.

Mrs. Marjorie Brannon and Mr. Lowell Thomas discuss the Friday news bulletin before it is completely finished.

Mrs. Barbara Schultheis puts in many hours keeping the school records up to date.

Mrs. Marjorie Brannon spends many hours behind Fart Brannon typing reports, correspondence, and bulletins.

Business Teachers Get Involved

Is this the Business Department? Are these the ladies who tell hundreds of students how to dress for successful interviews and job situations?

As part of the program to encourage more students to enroll in business classes, the faculty members have participated in all activities this year. Mrs. Elsie Cox, Mrs. Mollie Young, Mrs. Janice Wilson, Mrs. Pauline Rice, Mrs. Betty Bulger, Mrs. Pam Sanzo, Mrs. Catherine Chambers and Mrs. Nancy Pearce showed their true colors during the month of October. These unfailingly stylish dressers even participated in "Tacky Day." All this generated a lot of attention which was exactly what the business teachers were looking to get. As Mrs. Cox said, "We wanted students to notice our department. We're trying to increase enrollment, and this seemed to be a way to show students that business education doesn't have to be all business!"

Here the business teachers set stunning examples of their motto: "Dress for Success."

Cafeteria Staff

The cafeteria is an area of activity all day beginning with breakfast from 7:30 a.m. to 8:00 a.m. The staff prepares a different breakfast each morning to serve to students and faculty. Simultaneously, some workers are beginning to prepare lunch. That lunch is prepared not only for here, but also for an elementary school. Mrs. Carol Moss and her staff serve enough meals each year to feed a small army.

Pizza, cheeseburgers, tossed salad, baked potato, taco salad, barbecue, chicken ... whatever the mind can imagine and the stomach desires ... served in the Crabber Cafeteria by efficient, able and caring workers.

Ta-dah! It's the cafeteria staff.

The cafeteria staff takes a break before tackling the job of facing all those hungry students.

Custodians

The privilege of coming to a clean school, thanks to the hard work and long hours put in by the Custodial Brigade, is enjoyed by H.H.S. students every day. Without them, the school would be in shambles. From keeping the halls clean to reporting burnt out lights, the custodians do their best to keep the school in order. Thanks must be extended to some of the most dedicated workers in the school system.

ADMINISTRATION

Administrative Assistants

A student that is absent must go through the ritual of getting an excuse note from one of the Deans. For some it is not that easy. When a student misses a day of school he must bring a note from a parent or guardian stating the reason with a signature. Some try to forge their own notes and if caught a green note — otherwise known as an unexcused note is given. On top of that a student may receive detention, SIPS, or suspension depending on how well they can get out of trouble. For skippers green notes are their worst nightmare and Mr. Smith or Ms. Wilson, their biggest enemy.

Some forged notes have consisted of outrageous excuses for missing school. Doctor appointments, personal illnesses and even prearranged trips for funerals two weeks in advance. Even though the notes may seem bizarre, some are true but Hampton High School deans have a way to see through students' antics.

Dean of Girls, Ms. Barbara Wilson, compiles discipline and attendance records on her desk daily.

Mrs. Gloria Cox, Administrative Aide, monitors the halls and keeps in frequent contact with other administrators with her walkie-talkie.

Mr. Kenneth Chority, Administrative Aide, calls into the main terminal.

Administrative Team

The pressure of guiding students through school can be exhausting yet fulfilling. The administration has to make sure that everything is operating smoothly within the school.

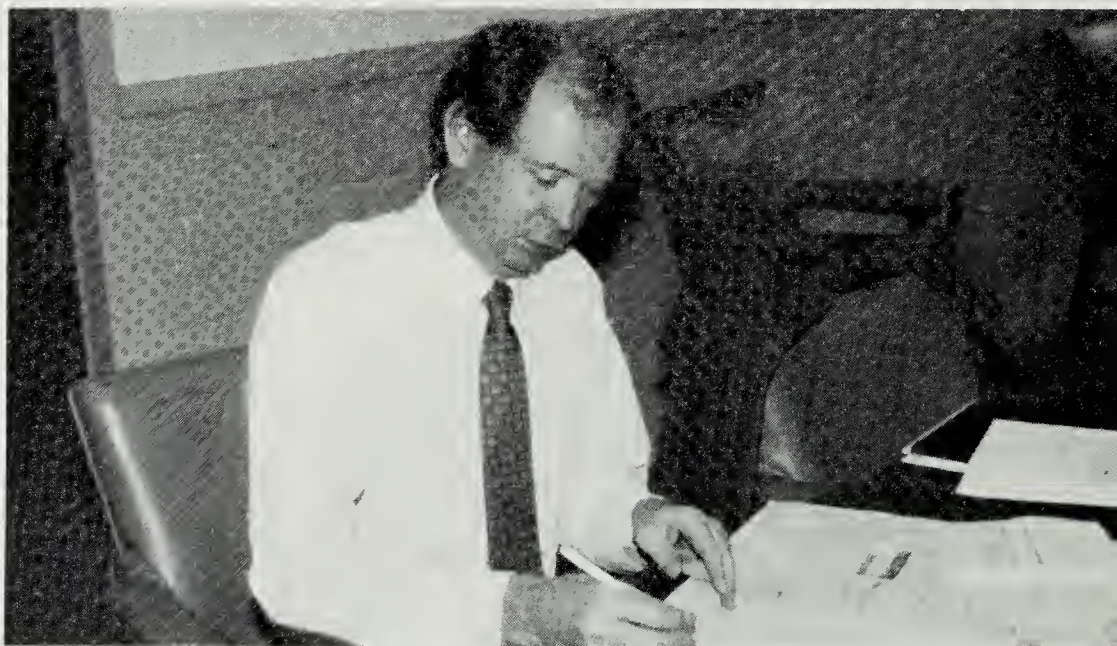

An administrator's day starts before most of HHS's students ever arrive at school. All four administrators, Mr. Lowell Thomas, principal; Mr. Gordon White, Mrs. Violet Williams, and Mr. Robert Croft, assistant principals, meet every Monday morning before school starts to go over ideas and problems of the week. Mr. Thomas leads the meeting to ensure a smooth operation.

The administrative team strives to protect the students and direct the academic environment. One addition this year is the introduction of walkie-talkies. Four administrators, two deans, and administrative assistants have been given these gizmos. Mr. Croft says, "They have enabled the staff to be more accessible and protective."

Varsity Football

The Hampton High football team proved uncrushable and made everyone proud to be a Crabber. They finished the season with an upsetting, one-point loss in the State Championship game, 13-12. They fell victim to a muddy field and their opponent Garfield.

Although the loss seemed tragic the Crabbers still captured the Peninsula District, then went on to win the Eastern Regional, followed by another victory in the State Semi-finals.

The Crabber football team is a good example of the hard-working individuals at Hampton High, as the Crabbers won their fourteenth consecutive district title.

The Crabbers placed two players on the All-State team: Center line/backer, Senior Anthony "Alonza" Cherry, and Junior safety/lineback, Sean Hamlet. Still in the minds of many, the State champs are at Hampton High.

J.V. Football

The J.V. Crabbers worked hard to show they deserve some respect and recognition. Coached by Walter Brower and assistants Joel Gray, Kenny Gilliam and Simon Gup-ton, the J.V.'s finished the season with only one loss, 7-1. The team was second in the District. Season stand-outs were Michael Lacey, Paul Logeman, and Walter Ford.

Tennis

The 1990 Girls Tennis team, coached by Ms. Trish Mitchell, ended on a positive note. With the defeat of Gloucester, the final record was 4-7. Although this group was not one of the top teams in the district, each girl improved throughout the season and had a great time.

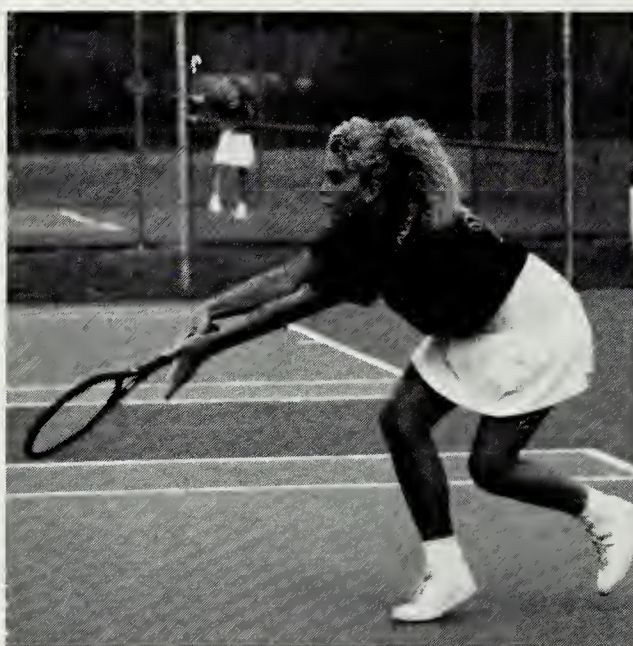

The team's top six were Laura Buchanan, Colleen Ryan, Leigh Justet, Erin Myers, Charla Cherry, and Grace Marcel, respectively. Although four of the top six players are graduating, the remaining girls will return with experience and much determination.

Golf

The Hampton 1990-91 golf team traveled all over Hampton, Newport News, and Williamsburg areas. The team competed in eight matches and sent two players on to regionals. The players walked the golf courses in the rain, and in the hot blistering sun. The golfers played on a number of different courses from Hampton to Williamsburg.

Mike Wetterer and Barrett Franklin were the two Hampton players maintaining their positions in the top seven to be eligible for regional play.

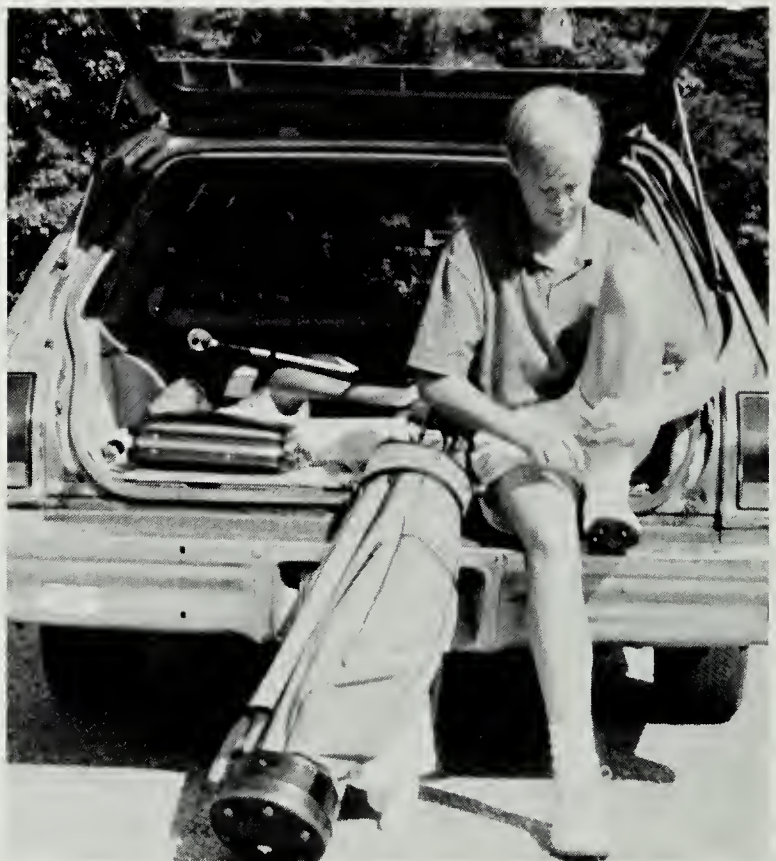

"The Hampton team was competitive and strong," said junior Josh Smith, "We could send the ball sailing. But golf takes a lot more than strength and power, it takes skill, precision, and lots of practice." This year's golf team demonstrated these skills, we hope next year will be the same.

Cross Country

Cross Country requires extreme dedication and hard work. Runners answer early wake up calls and work late into the hot summer days. Endurance, practice and will power are what cross country is all about.

This year's captains are Kippy Mauldin and Lamont Barnes. A very valuable asset to the cross country team is senior Kippy Mauldin who broke the school's girls' course cross country record this year; also, she was the first girl to qualify for the state meet.

The cross country team had a successful season. The girls cross country team came in second in city and third in the district. The boys cross country team had a rewarding season as well. The hard work the cross country team put forth this year should be a shining example for all of Hampton's athlete's.

Both the girls' and the boys' track teams gave outstanding performances. Coached by Mr. Fred Hamilton and Mr. Herman Daniel, Mr. Stan Widen-er and Mrs. Cindy Randall, the teams proved worthy opponents where ever they competed.

The boys team used this year to rebuild their program. Even at this, the boys' team qualified to run in the regional meet. Lamont Barnes placed third in his heat.

While the boys were rebuilding, the girls were moving on. This season has been a very successful one for the girls' track team. Many people thought that the girl's team was not going to perform as well as last year, but several new girls came out and together they got the job done.

The two mile relay team surprised a lot of people by making it to the regional meet. They lead off with Natasha Gomes 2.30, followed by Brooke Mitchell 2.41, Tammy Santamaria 2.50, and last leg Christine Urban 2.45 with a team total of 10.46, the best time this season. The 800m relay was very successful again this year. The lead off was Grace Lassiter, followed by TaWanda Gardner, Tonya Littleton, and last leg Alisha Tucker, making state qualifying time. The mile relay in this season's competition was Bethel. The first leg was Alisha Tucker 61, second leg Tawanda Gardner 65, Tonya Littleton 65, and last leg Narasha Gomes 63, qualifying to go to State.

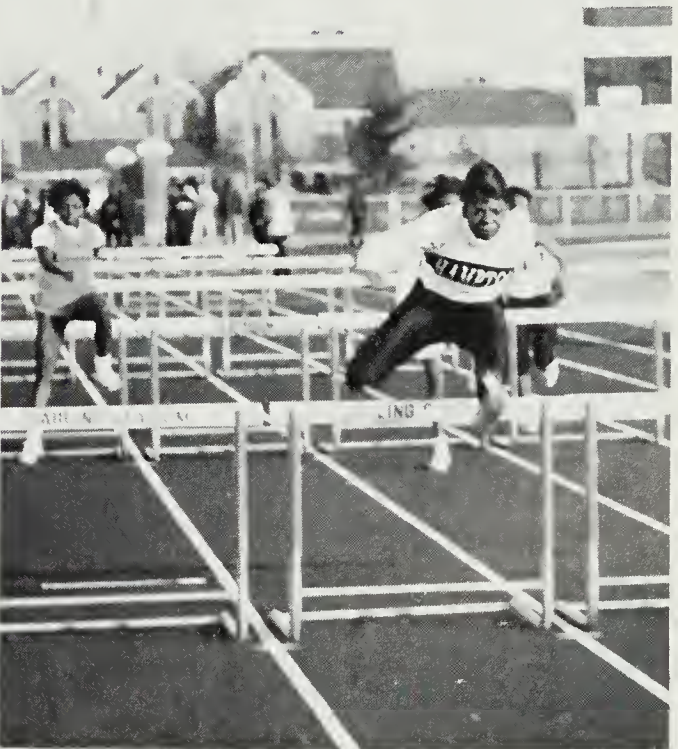

Each member of the team did well in her individual events. Tawanda Gardner and Alisha Tucker qualified to go to the State meet in the hurdles and 55m dash held at George Mason University in February.

Christine Urban got third place in 3.1 mile course in Cross Country last fall.

Tanyo Littleton at Newport News park last fall in Cross Country, placed 5th in the 3.1 mile course.

Tawanda Gardner, in Lafayette and Denbigh meets, got first place in the 55 meter hurdles.

Varsity

Hampton High's varsity basketball team dominated again this year. After winning second in State last year, the team worked hard to do their best again this year.

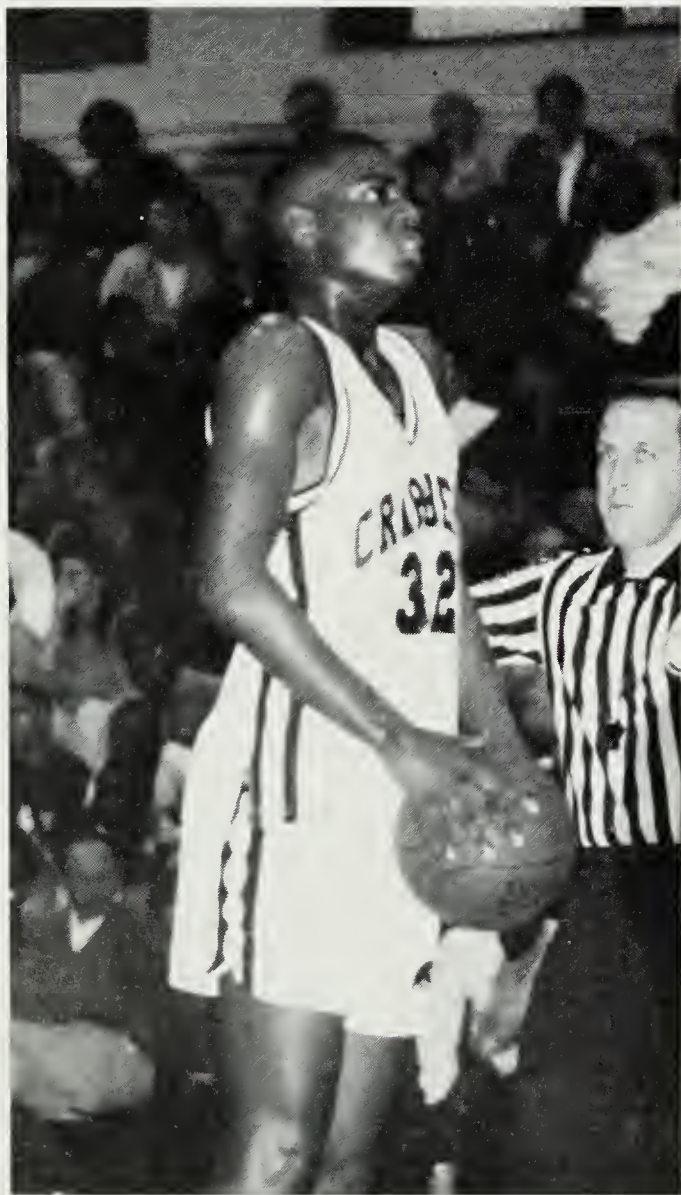

On the subject of State this year, Coach Walter Brower said that the team takes one game at a time. He said the team will play hard and go as far as it can.

The devastating starting lineup for this season included center David Blizzard, forwards Carlin Brown and Damon Bacote, and guards Jermaine Gholsen and Sean Hamlette. As talented as this year's team is, next year's should be even better, considering that the team is losing only three senior players.

With a regular season record of 22-1 and a whopping victory over Bethel in the final, the varsity basketball team is headed for great things.

Girls' Varsity

The Lady Crabber Varsity Basketball team coached by Mr. Joe Melvin suffered one of the most painful seasons of a long time. Many players from last year's team graduated making this a rebuilding year. A new coach and freshmen players have had to adjust to the grueling schedule and requirements. Even though they have had disappointing season, the team has stuck together and made much progress along the way. Dana Galbreath, forward, said, "The team hopes to come back stronger next year. With a year of experience, we should be able to be a formidable force in the district."

JV Boys Basketball

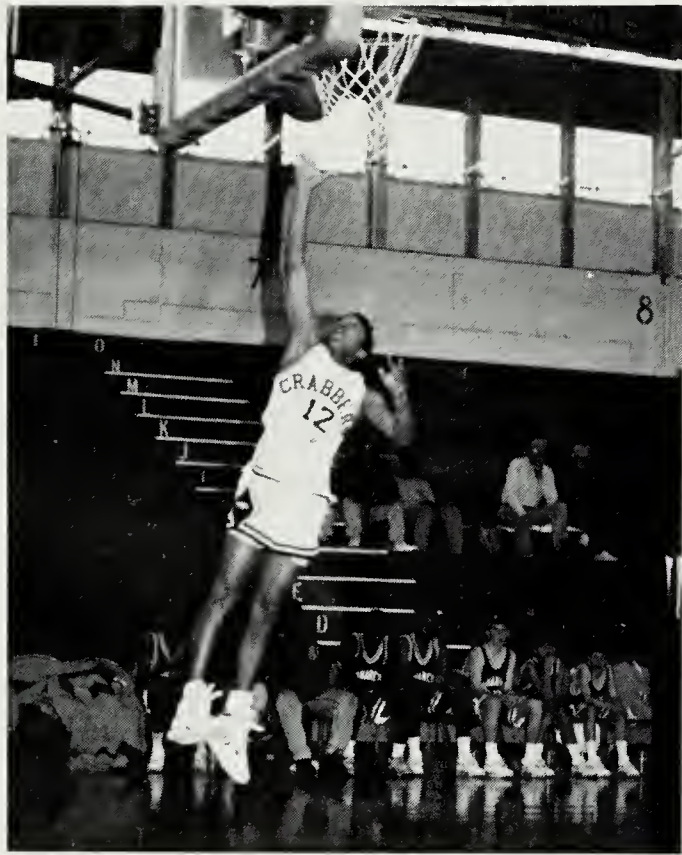

This year's Junior Varsity basketball team finished their season in third place. The Junior Varsity Crabbers played 18 games and won 14. Key players for the team were sophomores Tony Chambliss, and Chris Copeland, and eighth graders Tabin Garrett. Key players off the bench were Johnathan Baker, John Galbreath, and Bobby Ray.

Ninth grader John Logeman says, "We had a really good season this year. We had some losses at the beginning which hurt us."

Girls JV Basketball

For the first year of Girls' Junior Varsity basketball, the season went rather well, finishing with 9 wins and 9 losses. Most players will return for next year's girls' team.

Key players for the 90-91 Girls Junior Varsity were #30 Waynetta Veney, who was the leading scorer; #24 Shavada Bailey; #23 Shountee Hall; and #34 Jennifer Williams. The coaching staff for the girls' junior squad were Coach LaWanda Sheppard and Assistant Coach Michelle Mickens.

Wrestling

This year's wrestling team had numerous good wrestlers. They finished 7th in the District, but that standing did not reflect the quality of the wrestling team. That standing reflected the lack of wrestlers, in that the team had only 11 members.

The team proved itself in the District Tournament by placing 4th overall. The team had three people to be champions of their weight class in the District. They were Howard Rainey, Brett Srefanko, and Ryan Srefanko.

Kaharie Smith placed second in his weight class. Morris Brown and Myran Newsome gave the team two fourth place finishes, and Tany Lee and Eric Lloyd placed 5th. The team did well adjusting to their new coach, Dan Richard, and proved that by their performances.

Swim Team

The swim team coached first by Steve Hennessey and then by Pam Taylor, Has had a rough time with only 15 people on the team.

After Coach Hennessey was deployed to Saudi Arabia Pam Taylor took on all these energetic high school students. Over all Hampton placed 5th out of 9 teams, including Newport News and Williamsburg.

THE 1990-91 Junior Varsity Cheerleading squad, coached by Mrs. Jacqueline Ortiz, do is a superb job of cheering the Crabbers on to victory. The spirited girls are instrumental in conveying the school spirit.

The captain Chmonica Peoples and co-captain Robin Gaston are dedicated to leading the squad in pep rallies and on the sidelines. These young ladies work just as hard as the athletic teams for which they are cheering and it shows in their powerful performances and their awesome stunts.

Hampton High School is successful in being well known for their school spirit and the J.V. Cheerleaders contribute a great deal to this success.

leaders

The 1990-91 Varsity Cheerleaders had a very long and successful season. They began practice in the early months of the summer with practice four days a week. The squad attended camp in Richmond in July. Practices continued on each day through August until school started.

September brought the beginning of the football season, pep rallies, and class assemblies — at last a chance to generate the spirit and perform. All the hard work began to show.

The squad cheered on the varsity football team all the way to the State AAA Championship against Garfield on December 8. The football play-off games overlapped into the beginning of the basketball season. These hardworking young ladies continued on through another sports season that lasted until early spring.

The captains of the squad, Allison Hayes and Ivette Velez, gave it their all to mold this squad into the united and hardworking team it was. This successful squad had a driving force behind it, their coach, Mrs. Kathi Driver. She worked just as hard, if not harder, as every girl on the squad. She, too, attended all the practices and games.

These young ladies practiced for what amounts to two sports seasons, and helped to raise the spirits of fans, students, and the teams at games and pep rallies.

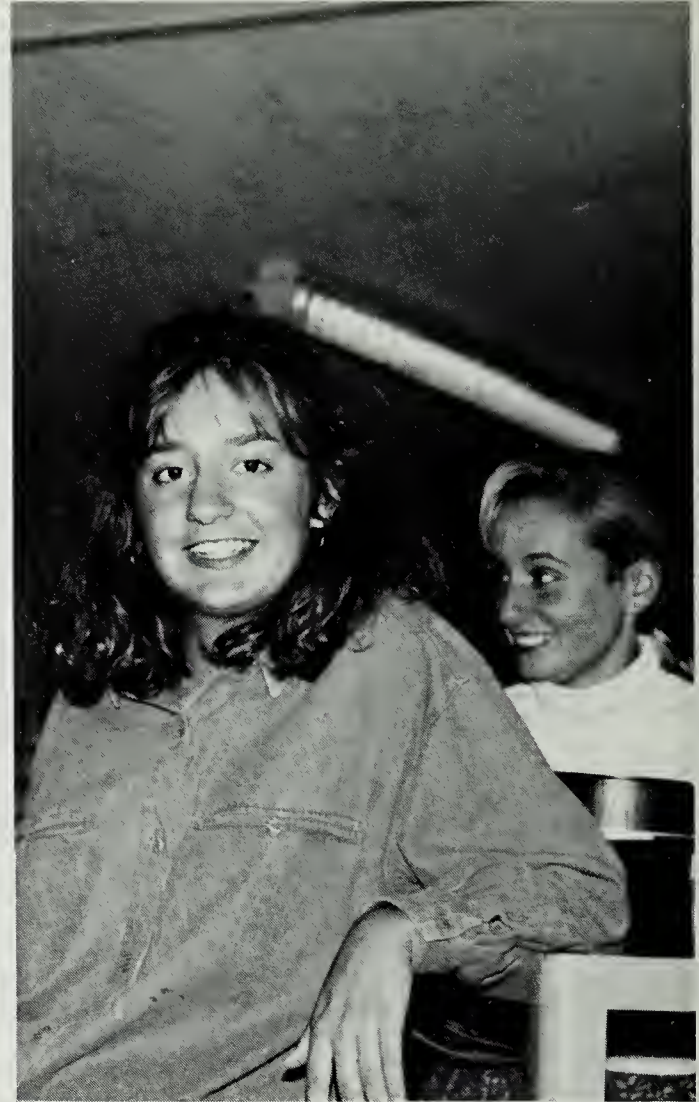

They worked their hardest to promote school spirit, and through sunshine, rain, heat, and cold they were there to push the teams to victory.

Clubs and Organizations

SCA WORKS

The SCA, Student Council Association, is a student leadership program sponsored by Jahn Blelloch. This club inspires Crabbers towards school spirit with skits at pep rallies, posters and announcements encouraging and congratulating all activities at HHS. They also have food and money drives for needy families and sponsor the yearly Blood Drive as community service projects. This group is determined and generous. Leaders in this association are Renee Jahnsan, president; Sia Butler, vice-president; Kippy Mauldin, secretary; Liza Monroe, chaplain; Jeff Graveline, parliamentarian; and Susan Still, treasurer.

Natural Helpers

These young people are a group of dedicated eleventh and twelfth graders that devote much of their time and energy toward raising self-esteem and drug awareness in elementary schools, and helping new students become acquainted with this school.

The Natural Helpers discuss topics such as values, friendship, and peer pressure with 5th graders in visits to the area elementary schools. They speak to the "Just Say No" clubs and elementary gifted classes in hopes of bettering students' knowledge of themselves and of drugs and alcohol.

The other main responsibility of these helpers is to help new students. They show them around to their classes, and eat lunch with them. They are here to welcome newcomers and help them to feel welcome.

The Natural Helpers give presentations that increase teens' abilities of dealing with daily problems of other teens in society. It is felt by many that young people will accept alternatives from their peers more readily than from adults. Natural Helpers strive for more positive experiences, related in an open, trusting environment to help a person's esteem.

The Natural Helpers take their tasks seriously and work hard to attain their goal of "youth positively influencing youth." For all involved, personal growth and development occurs as they learn about themselves.

FHA

The Future Homemakers of America is a small organization which has members who enjoy helping others in school and the community. The main focus of FHA is to help individuals and the family to develop in a positive way. FHA is under the leadership of Dawn Blake, president; Shasta Smith, vice-president; Shasta Jones, secretary; Antony Ward, treasurer; and Tenequa Swan, historian.

Throughout the year FHA has participated and made many contributions to various organizations. They made contributions to the Home for Battered Women and to the Christmas Family Fund. They have written letters to servicemen in the Middle East, helped to prepare and serve food for the Model UN Dinner Theatre at school, and participated in the FHA Federation program on recycling and the Officers Training Workshop, and Homecoming parade. They also had a Christmas party for members.

In addition to all of this, the FHA participates in STAR, a state sponsored competition, plans visits to local colleges and universities, celebrates birthdays, attends state conferences, sponsors guest speakers and promotes programs on careers.

These students are taking part in the FHA induction ceremony.

Student Aides

Student Aides work in various places all over the school. They work in the main office, the clinic, the dean's office, and for teachers. Besides roaming the halls, they run errands, sign passes, check paper, and do various other jobs depending on for whom they are working.

Senior Bobby Calfee who works in Mr. Croft's office during fourth period says, "It gives me a break in the middle of the day, and I enjoy it."

"It provides a study hall and a good experience all in one," stated Colleen Ryan when asked how she likes working for Dean Wilson third Period.

Keyettes

The Keyettes, a community service group, do many yearly activities. They do service projects for the benefit of the Downtown Day Care Center. Keyettes sell candy and Candygrams, and provide a reception at the Academic awards banquet. This year they also sponsored a Halloween cake raffle, a Thanksgiving Food project, and a Christmas activity for Virginia State. Their goal for the 1990-91 school year is to become better known throughout the school.

Krabbba/Krabbba Highlight

The KRABBA and the KRABBA HIGHLIGHT staffs comprise an organization dedicated to producing a yearbook, a supplement to the yearbook, and eight newspapers, including the special issues, every year. The newspaper and yearbook staffs include all journalism classes. These classes are made of sophomores, juniors, and seniors.

Many people do not realize how taxing this organization is and how really dedicated a student has to be. The Journalism staff works together to create an exciting picture-packed yearbook and informative, entertaining newspapers. Selling ads, meeting story deadlines, and putting together lay-outs are just a few of the responsibilities of this talented group of students.

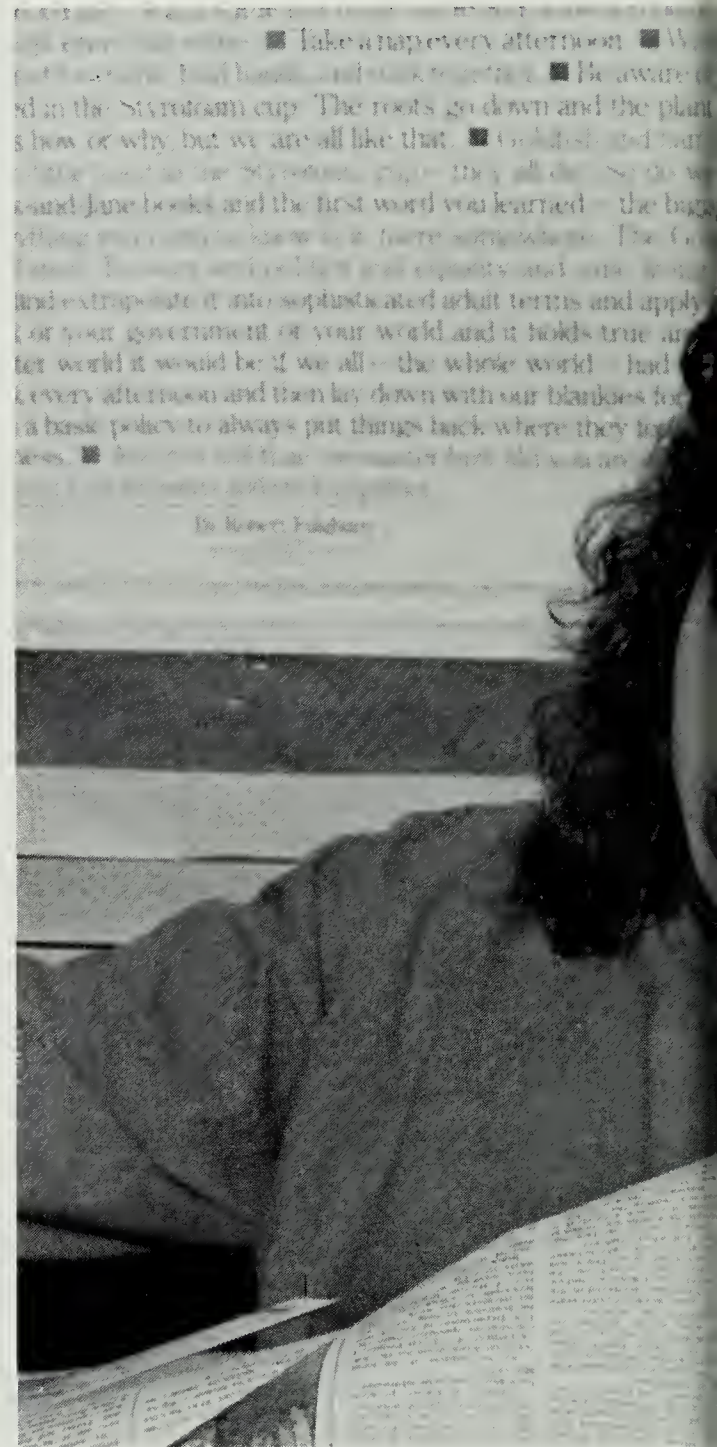

The KRABBA staff begins work from the first day of school to insure the best product at the end of the year for the students and faculty. But these brain-dead students sometimes need a little shove by the queens themselves, Ms. Mary Foster and Mrs. Gwen Parker.

Darlene Wright, Jennifer Neufeld and Krissy Markle show their pride and dedication to the newspaper by helping out an Back to School night.

Kyle Moore tries to sneak into class by hiding behind Heather Bayko.

Katie Minnehan is reading up on current events to catch herself up with her story for the newspaper.

Senior Anissa Agee, a project discover member, waits outside Mr. Butler's for college information.

SAE

Student Action for Education is dedicated to the improvement of the student community and the school's relationship with the community through service activities.

Members raised money to buy books for the military stationed in Saudi Arabia, acknowledged teachers during Teacher Education Week, and promoted school spirit by selling jumbo candy canes for Christmas. SAE's members encourage good character and leadership and try to involve students in educational goals. This organization helps students to become involved in the educational process by becoming responsible for their own educational lives. Students learn how to be both leaders and followers. Regular meetings are established with definite goals set to be met.

The elected officers are: Antoinette Barner, president; Terra Chalmers, vice-president; Tasha Parker, treasurer; Shakisha Winslow, secretary; Tammie Judge, historian; Rikki Thomas, corresponding secretary. The adviser is Mrs. Marion P. Wright.

FBLA

Over the years the Future Business Leaders of America have proven to everyone here at H.H.S. that they, pardon the pun, know their business.

F.B.L.A. has been very busy this year doing everything from designing floats to participating in a wide variety of community and school related activities.

The Future Business Leaders of America are taught the ins and outs of running a business. F.B.L.A. conducts workshops on leadership skills, job interviews, parliamentary procedures, and dressing for success. To be eligible to join this group of young, dedicated individuals, a student must have a business elective.

F.B.L.A. also supports local charities, such as the Leukemia Society and the Association for the Study of Childhood Cancer.

F.B.L.A. members annually attend a Spring Regional Conference at Thomas Nelson Community College.

Friends for Life

Friends for Life is a club that encourages students to lead lives that are free of drugs and alcohol. The members and sponsors are available to talk with any students about their problems. In addition to holding monthly meetings, this club participated in the Homecoming Parade and visited the "Special Crabbers" at Christmas for caroling. The sponsors are Mr. Chip Abbott and Mr. Gaylon Ryan.

The 1990-91 club officers are: president Mary Katherine Evans, Vice-President Michelle Clark, Secretary Karen Valentine, and Treasurer Terri Cobb.

C.R.O.M.E., sponsored by Ms. Olive Hopson, is an organization designed for minority students who plan to major in a technological field. These students are enrolled in advanced math and science courses and must maintain a "C" average. They must also demonstrate high standardized test scores.

Some of C.H.R.O.M.E.'s activities include listening to guest speakers, going on field trips, and being involved in internships, workshops, and competitions.

The officers for this year are: President Andre Boyce; Vice-president, Kevin McCaskill; Treasurer, Reggie Terry; and Secretary, Karen Brown.

Band

Grueling hours of practice have definitely paid off for the Crabber band. This year has been especially successful for they were able to perform at football games, pep rallies, parades, Christmas Concerts, and the McDonalds concert.

Hampran High's Marching Band provided half-time entertainment at the football games.

Hampton High's Marching Band performed many halftime shows this year. They provided "much" entertainment for the football fans.

Majorettes

The majorettes worked very hard this year. They organized, purchased uniforms, practiced and performed a routine for each game. Here they are performing at a pep rally.

Percussionists

The percussion section of the band worked hard this year, also. They gave an extra "beat" to the band.

Chorus

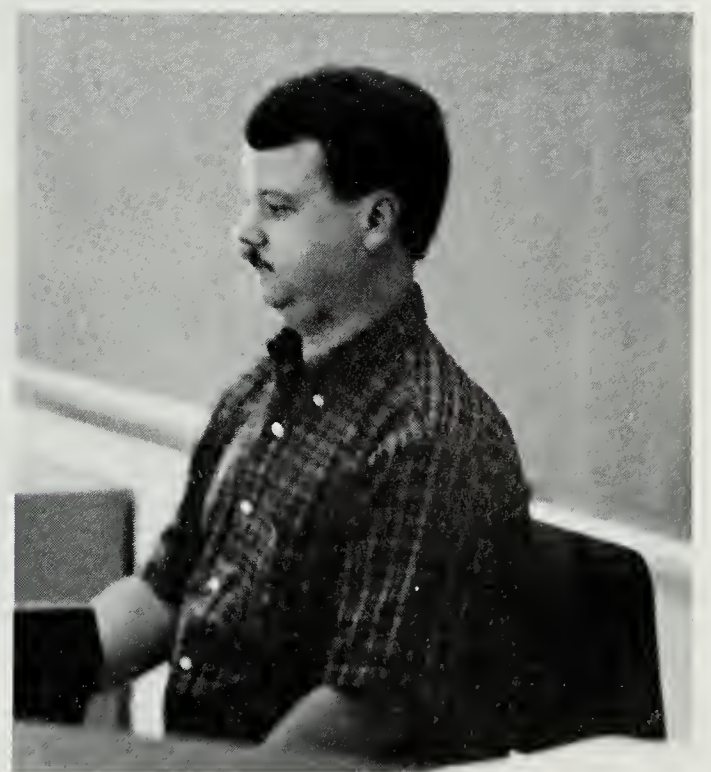

The chorus, led by Mr. Dean Shinn, has participated in many activities this year. They were in many competitions, including the National Choral Competition, the District VIII Choral Festival, Regional/District Chorus, and the All-City Ensemble. The chorus also took part in a Christmas and Spring Concert, a Newmarket Mall Concert, and a Fort Monroe Concert Series.

"David and Lisa"

The cast of "David and Lisa" worked many tedious months to perform the play that was performed on Nov. 29 and 30, 1990. The sponsors, Mrs. Nancy Fiocca and Mrs. Janet Rash contributed their time and efforts to help conduct a spectacular performance. The actors and actresses gave up much of their time to practice. It seemed as if everyone became a family. The cast members sold tickets to the show, and everyone wore their "David and Lisa" shirts on opening night. The second night of the performance the Model UN gave a dinner and then everyone came to the play. Everything seemed to come together so well. The Drama Club is truly appreciated.

The night began at 8:30 pm, December 14, 1990. Juniors began arriving in their best attire. An hour later the ceremonies began. The class was welcomed by Rikki Thomas, the class officers were introduced by Eddie Zellars and Van Vo, and the history of the class ring was given by Tammie Judge, Class President. Barbara LeSeur offered a prayer after the rings had been presented by Mr. Lowell Thomas and Mr. Jim Wolk.

This was the night that the Juniors had anxiously awaited. A winter wonderland was created to make the night one to be remembered. Cynthia Hamlette, along with the other class officers crowned Carlton Brown, Prince and Kelly Shaffner, Princess. The Juniors and their dates danced the night away in a winter wonderland of fushia, black, and silver decorations.

Everyone had a night to be remembered even "If Only for One Night."

Complications arise when Hepzibah's husband, Jared Dribble, and second wife, Monica Blackburn arrive, having been called back to life also.

The play would not have been successful without the help of the stage manager Camisha Belle and understudies Kacie Martin, Theo Simmons, and directors Mrs. Nancy Fiocca and Mrs. Janet Rash. Student Director Doug Borenstein commented, "Being a director was different from being on stage, it helped me in my acting by watching others act."

Student Assistance

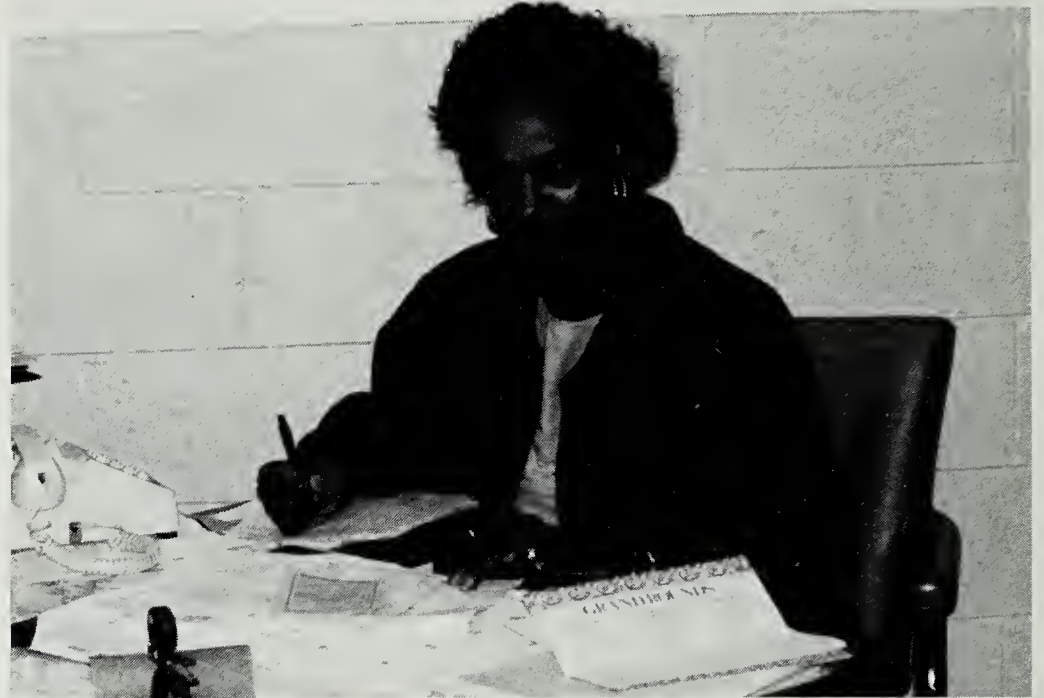

A Hampton High School graduate herself, Mrs. Trina Hines, Student Assistant Counselor has had a very productive year with class presentations and speaking individually with students.

Mrs. Hines focuses on drug and alcohol related subjects. She speaks with classes, groups, with family, or individuals concerning drugs, self-esteem, child abuse, alcohol, and coping with family problems.

Mrs. Hines has connections with all of the local psychiatric institutions such as Charter Colonial and Peninsula Psychiatric in addition to others.

In her very busy schedule she still finds the time to make home visits if necessary. This year she held a support group for those students with relatives in Desert Storm.

Mrs. Hines is always there if anyone needs someone to talk to.

"Are you Mrs. Brooke Eure?"

"Sometimes I am."

Mrs. Brooke Eure who has been working in a closer for three and a half years is no doubt one of the busiest people in Hampton High.

Mrs. Eure and clerk Mrs. Laura Mayo are greatly responsible for keeping this school running.

They are in charge of schedules for both teachers and students, the grades, transcripts, and daily attendance, but that's only the surface. There are 1500 transcripts that have to be written. That is one for each student and each has to be done by hand.

The state reports of attendance determines whether the school needs teachers or funding. So without the work of Mrs. Brook Eure, the school would have no money or grades or schedules. Is she indispensable? Yes, she is.

Mrs. Eure makes herself at home in the closer of her office.

Mrs. Mayo is not ready to pose.

Skills For Life

Hampton High has taken an exciting new approach to the high technology education. Each area has a particular emphasis. Because there is an ever increasing demand for highly skilled scientific and technological workers, this department is invaluable.

Home Economics is made up of two programs having two different objectives. These programs are: Consumer and Homemaking education, which prepares individuals for personal and family living and for earning a living. This program is taught by Mrs. Peggy Christian and Mrs. Linda Ellis.

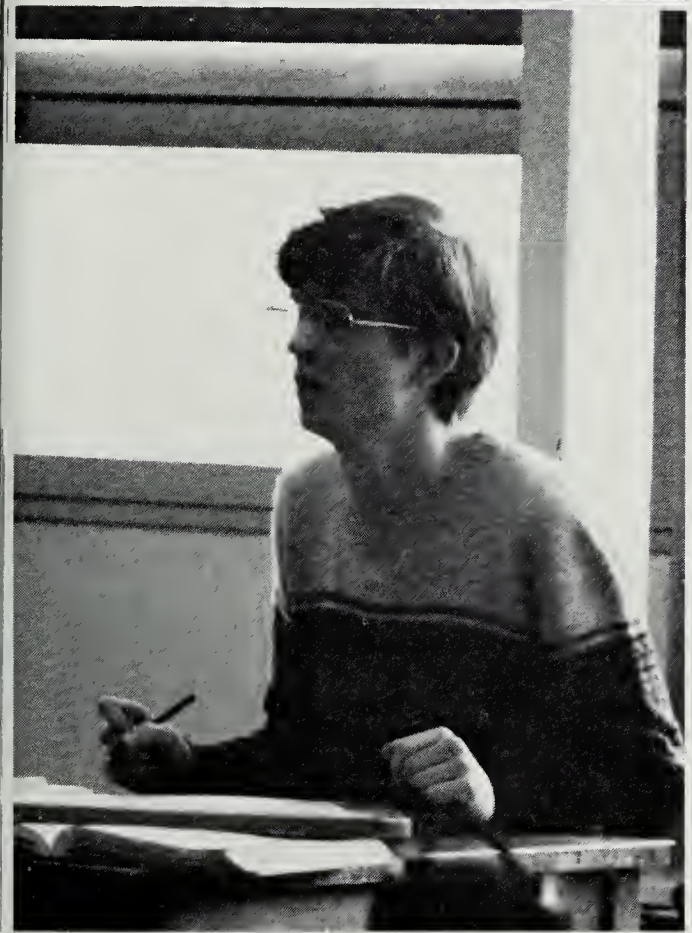

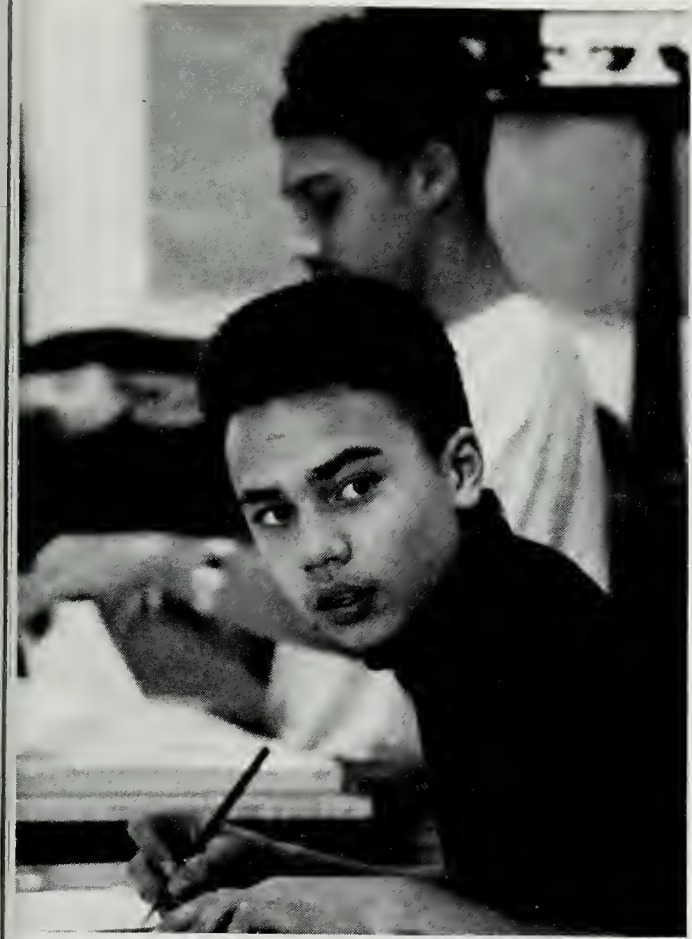

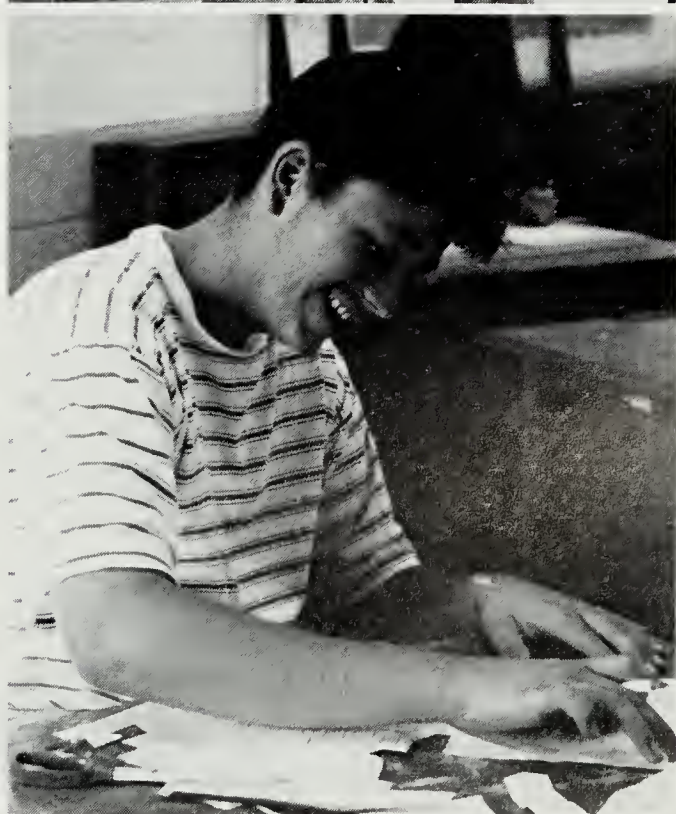

Marketing education is an occupational program, designed to provide students with the competencies needed for entry-level employment in marketing occupations. This program is taught by Mrs. Carol Rollins and Mrs. Peggy Christian.

Fashion Merchandising is a newly introduced course for students with a career interest in Apparel and Accessories marketing. Students achieve additional competencies unique to employment in the apparel field. Vocational Application of instruction is provided through 360 hours of occupational experience consisting of simulations, school, and community progress.

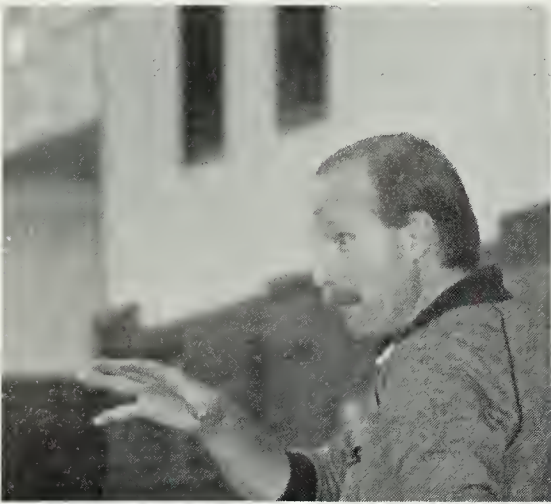

In addition to Home Economics, the Architectural and Engineering Science program is designed to provide experiences for students to specialize in either architectural or engineering science. Students will gain background skills which are enhanced with the use of computers.

Communications technology is a program that allows students to choose one of three possible areas for concentration — print media, broadcast media, or communication technology.

Trade and industrial education programs are designed to develop occupational skills, knowledge, attitudes, and work habits which prepare students to become employed in the trade and industrial field. These skills and many others help our students in preparing for the real world.

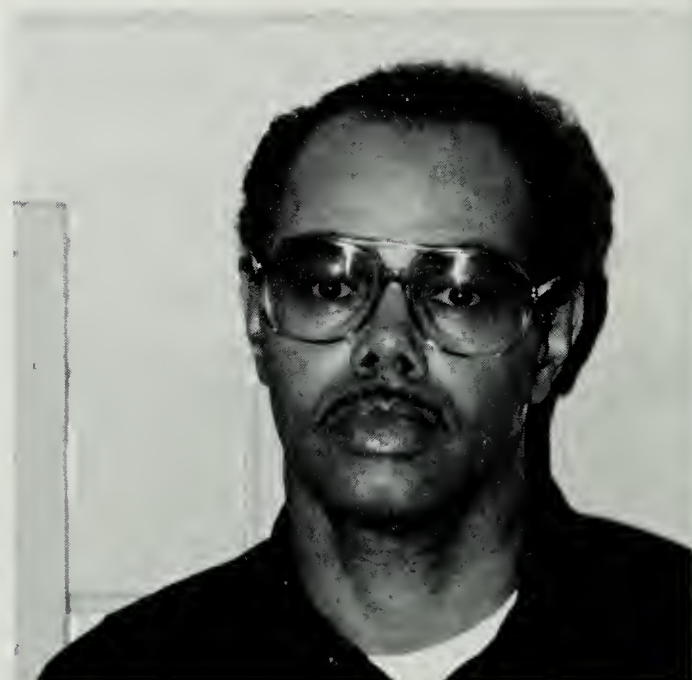

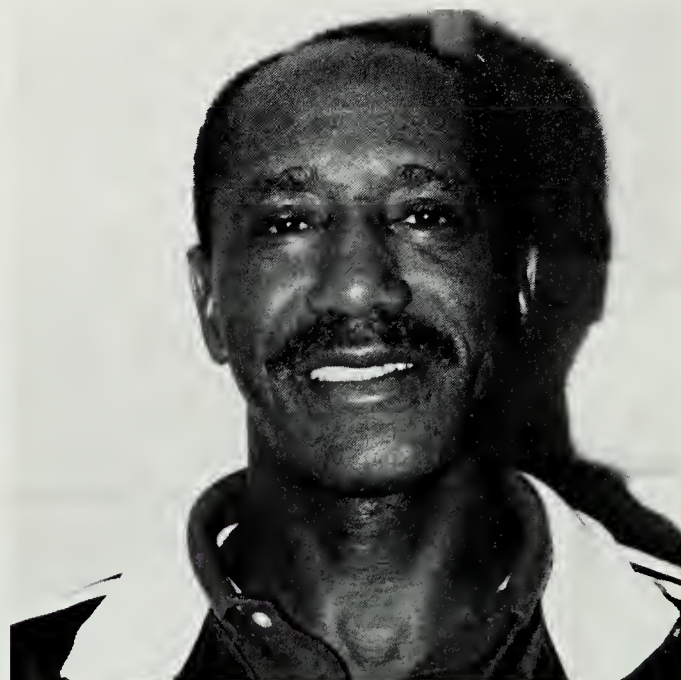

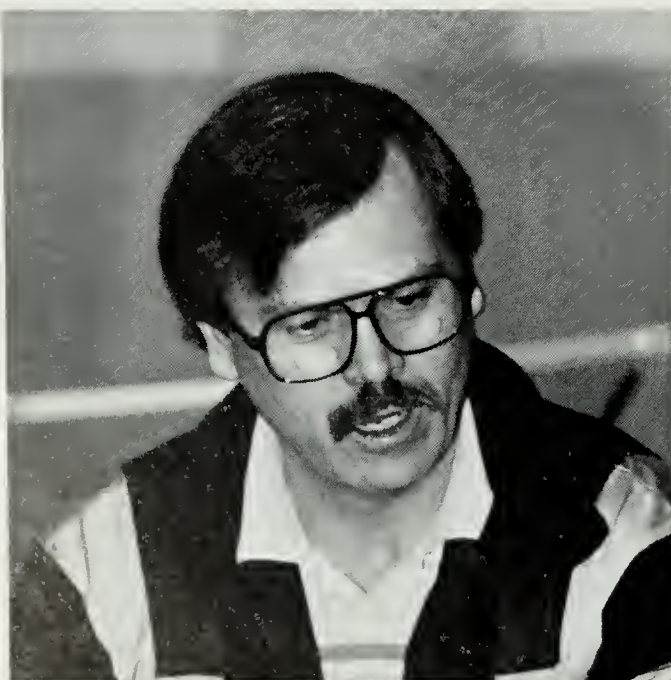

Shaping Up For What's Ahead

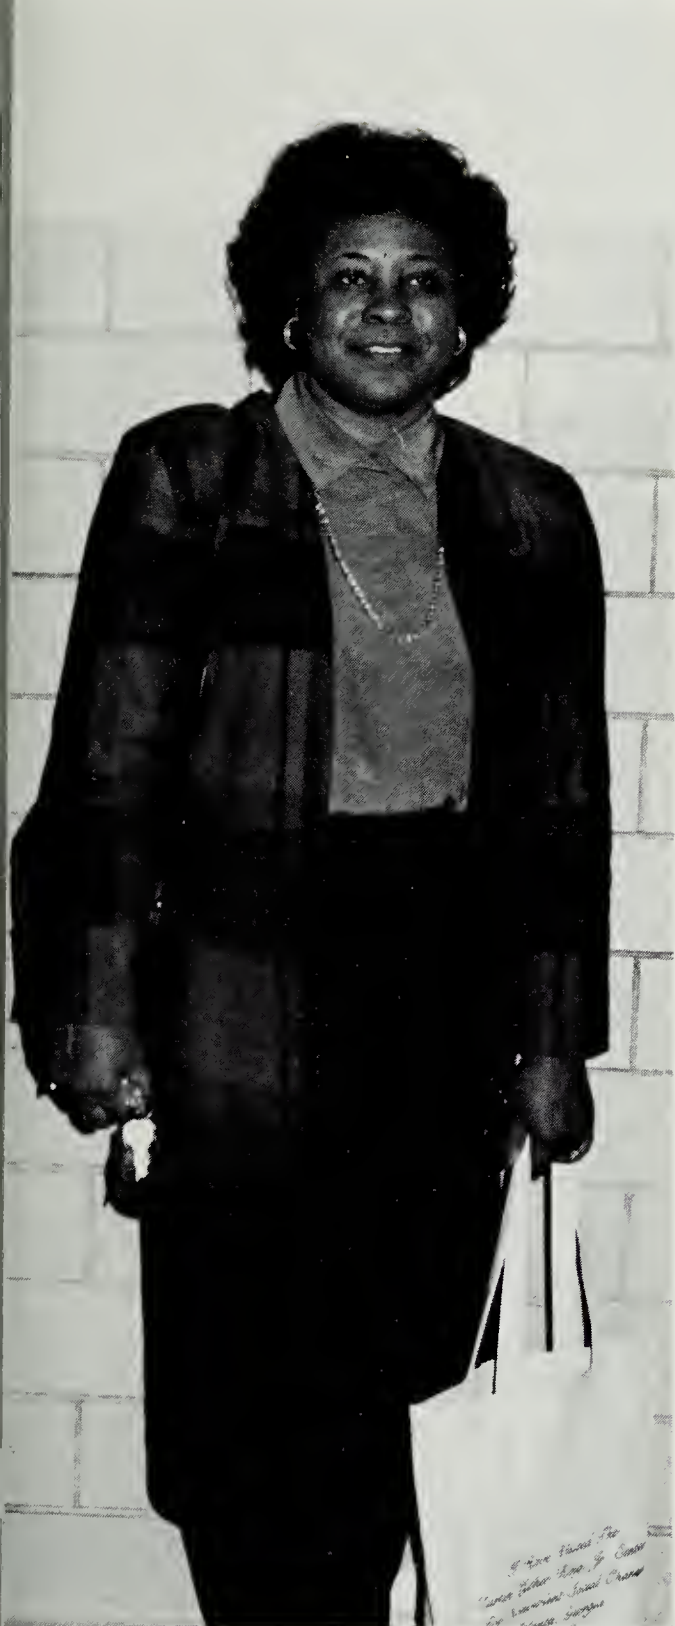

Hampton High possesses one of the best Physical Education Departments in the state of Virginia. P.E. is a very important part of education. Through P.E., a student learns about mental illness, first aid, and teenage sex. In addition, most students look forward to the second year of P.E. Why? Drivers Education! This is the way they learn to drive by taking Behind-the-Wheel. Hampton High's unique P.E. teaching staff includes Mr. Walter Brower, Mr. Chip Abbott, Mrs. Joyce Hopson, Mrs. Trish Mitchell, Mr. Fred Hamilton, Mrs. Susan Nelson, Mr. Lanier Saunders, and Mr. Wayne Veryzer.

These professionals teach classes other than ninth and tenth grade P.E. Advanced P.E. is taught by Mr. Lanier Saunders for those who enjoy P.E. and would like to continue to sweat. Another addition this year is adaptive P.E. taught by Mrs. Susan Nelson for the Special Crabbers.

The P.E. department provides an excellent way to receive exercise, while learning about many sports and health topics. It is invaluable to any student's complete education.

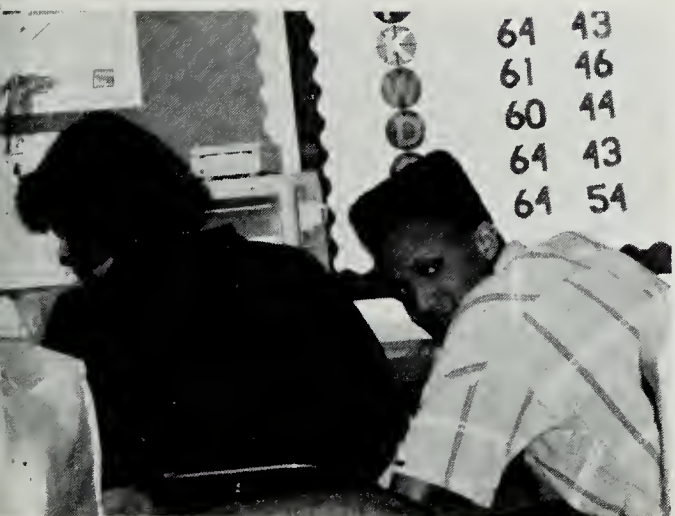

Pi "R" US

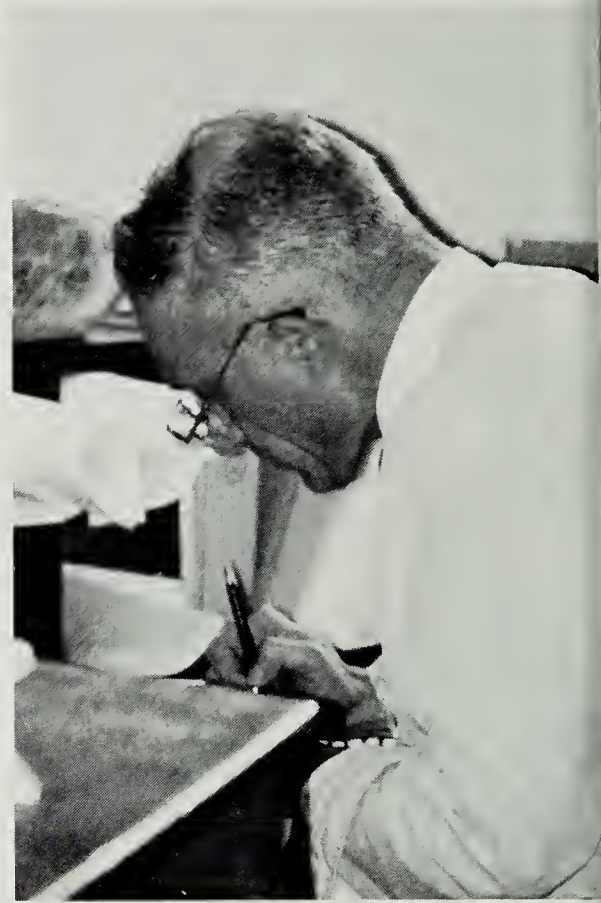

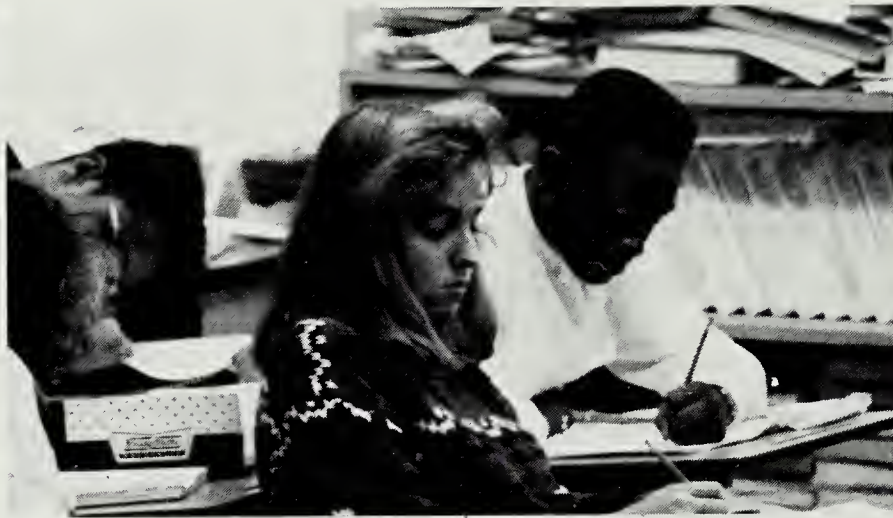

The Math Department, under the guidance of Mrs. Joyce Weeks, offers a wide variety of courses to students here at H.H.S. The courses range from Consumer Math to Advanced Placement Calculus courses.

These classes give the students the chances to broaden their mathematical skills and prepare them for the future if they decide to pursue a mathematical career. This department also offers competitions and workshops for students through the math classes.

Along with Mrs. Weeks are thirteen other teachers dedicated to helping students with mathematics, including: Mrs. Quinby Amory, Mr. Tom Bell, Mr. Lonnie Cheney, Mrs. Carolyn Holmes, Mrs. Ruth Hopson, Mrs. Iris Lawson, Mr. Harold Lewis, Mrs. Dianne Limerick, Mrs. Sue Miserentino, Mrs. Jacqueline Ortiz, Mrs. Jean Boucher, Mr. Joseph Sweat, and Mr. Stan Widener.

Studying the World Around Us

The Social Studies Department includes eleven talented teachers and offers courses ranging from World History to Sociology. Three years of Social Studies are required for an academic diploma.

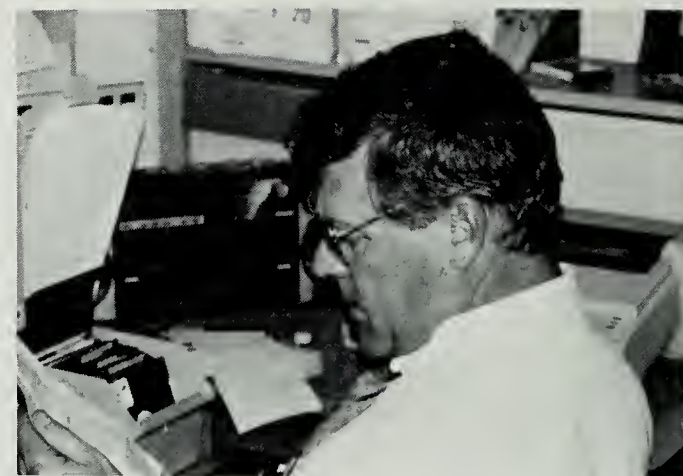

The Social Studies department has recently added two new classes. Sociology is being offered for grades 10-12 and is taught by Mr. Kenneth Kaplan. It starts with an introduction to the study of man and his activities in the social group and goes into the social problems and how they relate to social change. Psychology is also offered to grades 10-12. Psychology introduces basic theories and principles to help students understand their own capacity for growth.

The teaching styles in the department are as diverse as the teachers themselves. According to one of his students, Mr. Jim Wilson never uses a book and talks face to face in his discussions. He also adds spice to his teaching by relating interesting stories to the subject.

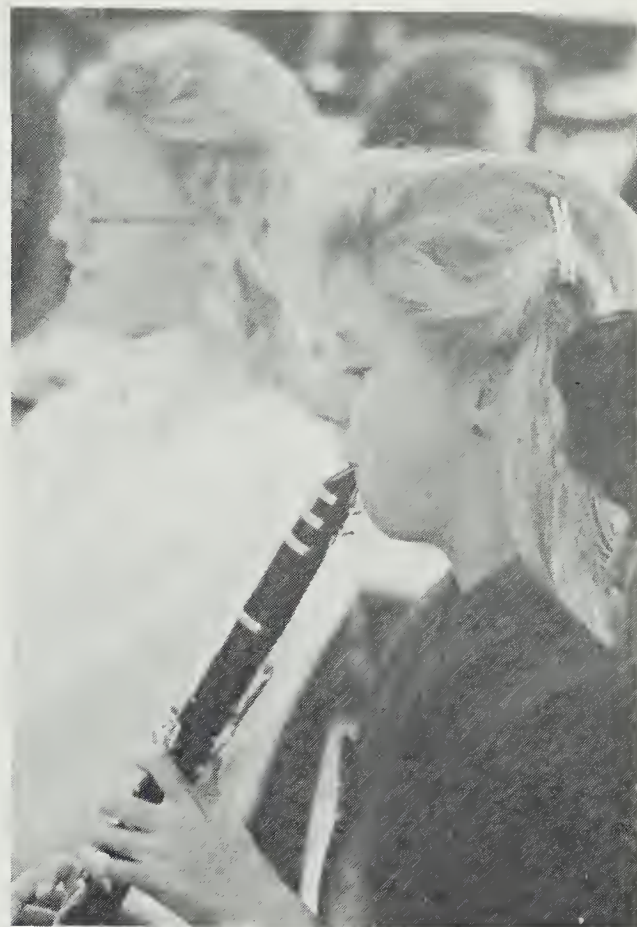

Mrs. Marcia Snyder also keeps her students' attention with amusing anecdotes. She gives her lectures in detail so that events are easily understood.

Mr. Kenneth Kaplan incorporates current events into his class discussions. He begins class by asking the students about their knowledge of what is going on in the world. When the war broke out, he devoted the entire class time to a discussion on it.

The Social Studies Department includes: Mr. Jim Wilson, Chairperson, Mr. Frank Adams, Mr. John Belloch, Mr. Mike Bullion, Mrs. Chryse Cheney, Mr. Kenneth Kaplan, Mrs. Cindy Randall, Mrs. Jackey Reagan, Mrs. Marcia Snyder, Mrs. Barbara Taylor, and Mr. Joe Vitello.

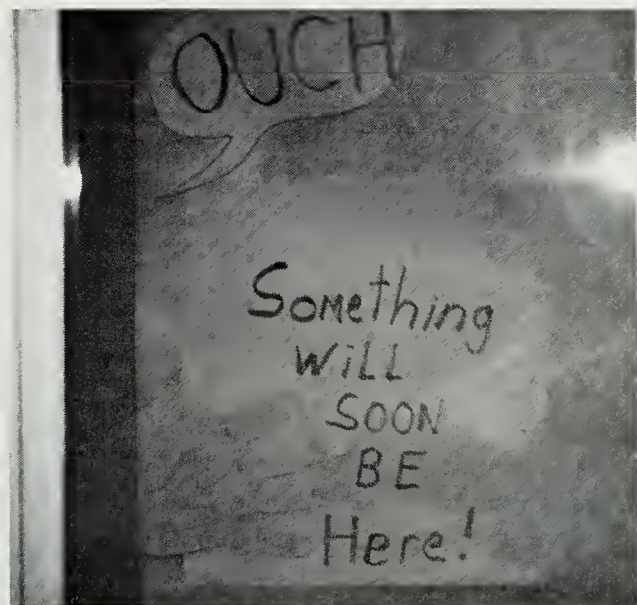

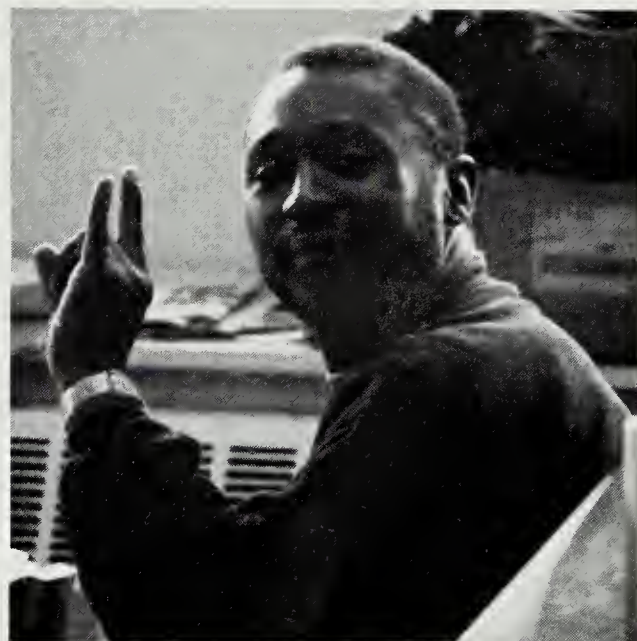

Arts and Music

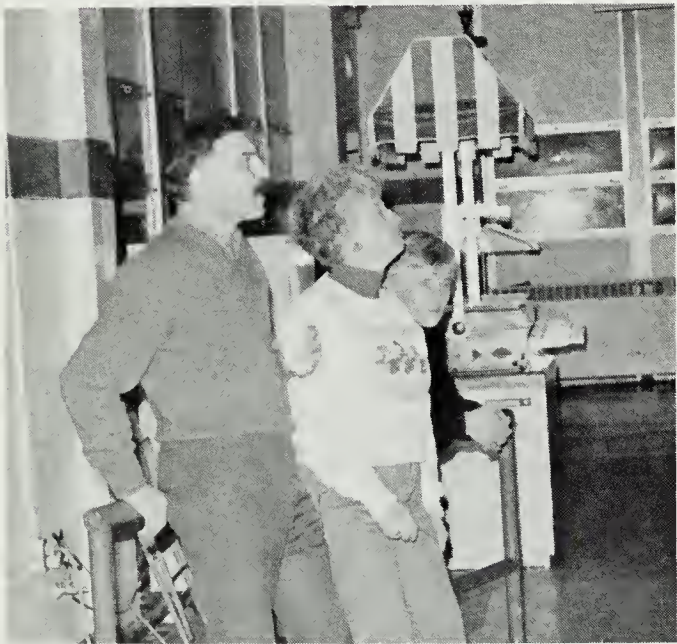

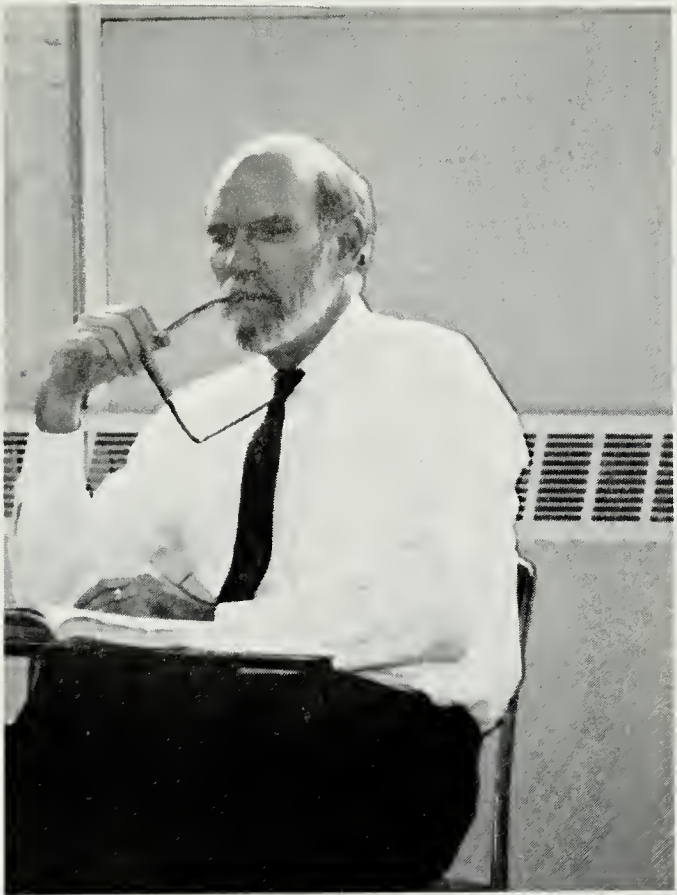

What defines a well-rounded student? Perhaps it's a student's involvement in extra curricular activities. The Fine Arts Department is unique in that it contains classes which automatically serve as both academic courses and extra-curricular activities. Students enrolled in art, band, and chorus classes have a slight advantage on events and competitions that are open to all students.

The importance of Fine Arts in the curriculum is also increasing. The class of '92 is the first class that must have at least one credit in Fine or Practical Arts to graduate. When asked about the importance of fine arts, art teacher Janet Rash replied, "In the Fine Arts, students experience self-expression, cultural heritage, peer interaction, and creative freedom." These qualities paired with a sense of competition Fine Arts' students an edge, again demonstrating the importance of the Fine Arts Department.

The teachers in the Fine Arts Department are: Mr. David Allison, band; Mr. Alvis Mann, art; Mrs. Janet Rash, art; and Mr. Charles Shinn, chorus.

Foreign Language Reaches Abroad

The Foreign Language Department offers students an opportunity to study French, German, Greek, Latin, and Spanish. Foreign Language study is an important part of every student's education. It broadens the student's view of the world and increases his understanding of language, particularly English.

Every year the Foreign Language Department participates in many interesting activities. This year 18 German students and two teachers visited Hampton High School. The Department also sponsored a Foreign language Week, including a reception for the teachers with foreign foods.

The Foreign language Department provides an invaluable source of knowledge for all students. The curriculum of each language class provides many rewarding cultural activities. Its concurrent club, The Foreign Language Club, boasts one of the largest memberships at Hampton.

The Foreign Language Department is led by many outstanding teachers. Mr. Andrew Dellis, Mrs. Lisa Schlikenmeyer, and Mrs. Shirley McCracken teach Spanish. Mr. William Solomon and Mrs. Katherine Driver teach French. Mrs. Monika Malone is a German teacher and Mrs. Sharon Phillips teaches Latin. Mr. Andrew Dellis also teaches Greek.

You Have To Take It Every Year

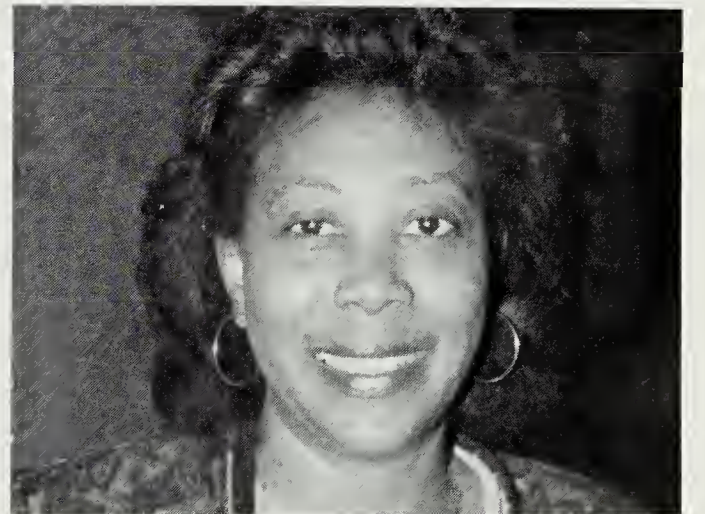

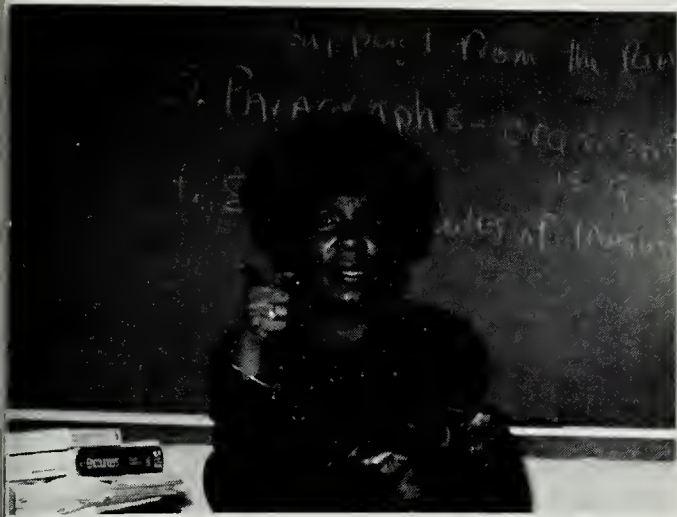

The thought of essays, journals, and grammar tests is enough to make many students bolt down the hall in terror. Unlike many classes, students know, English is inescapable. It begins in kindergarten and will be part of every student's academic schedule until college graduation. For those without a love for reading and writing, this can be a definite hardship.

The English staff at H.H.S., however, has proven that this "oh-so-necessary" subject does not always have to be a horror. Accomplished in the subject themselves, their knowledge and enthusiasm cannot help but be infectious. They see English as a sort of prerequisite to life. Mr. Dave Schindel, who teaches 11th graders, says, "It seems to me that the skills we teach and practice in English will help a person more broadly than anything else. We teach people to communicate information, and that makes all the other disciplines possible. While we are doing these things, people's basic thinking skills are improving."

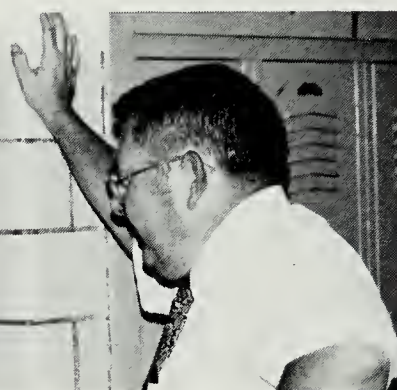

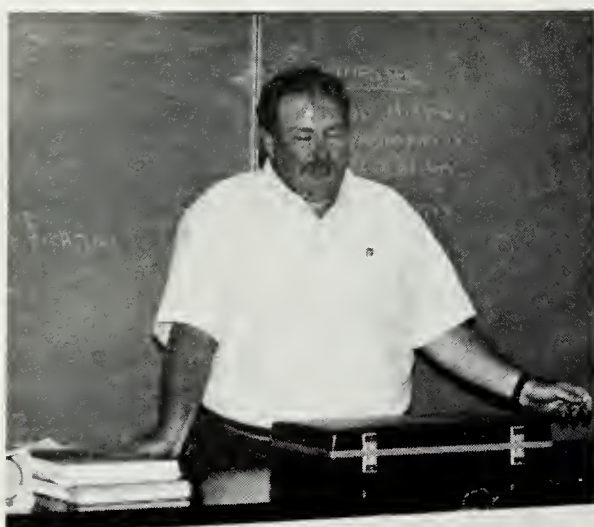

The H.H.S. English staff are indeed knowledgeable in their field. Many also teach at a college level, in addition to their jobs at Hampton. Mr. Maxton Jarrel and Department Chairperson Mrs. Doris Dancy are published poets and playwrights.

Students can also gain appreciation for English by enrolling in the various English electives offered. One may take public speaking, journalism, drama, or creative writing/mass media. All of these offer one of the most important aspects of English — the chance for self-expression.

The English Department includes: Mrs. Nancy Fiocca, Ms. Mary Foster, Mrs. Ann Holcomb, Mrs. Rebecca Dillard, Mrs. Danielle Smith, Mrs. Delgarcia Mitchell, Mrs. Marilyn Tucker, Mr. Dave Schindel, Mrs. Ann Stovall, Mr. Gaylon Ryan, Mrs. Doris Dancy, Ms. Catherine Horne, Mr. Maxton Jarrell, and Mr. John Scott.

Mortars, Pestles, Plants, and Rocks

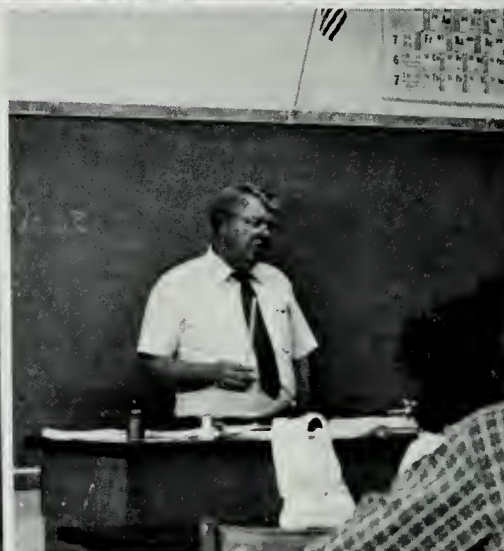

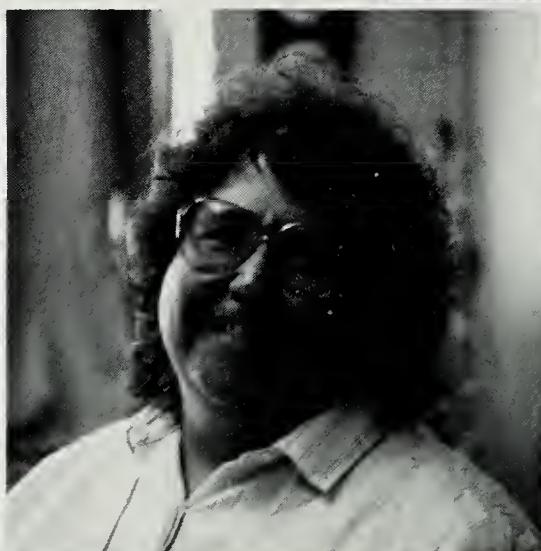

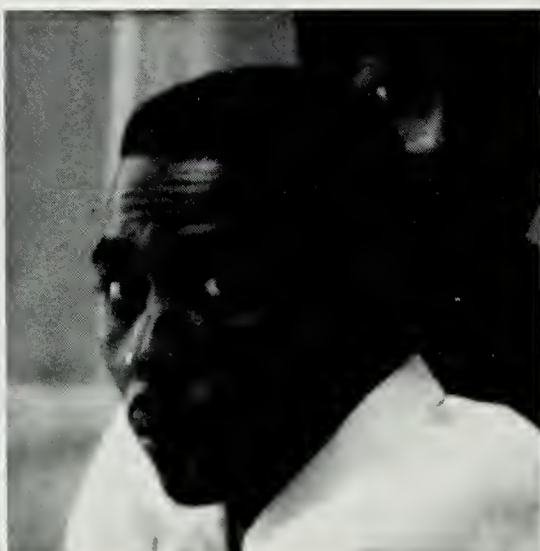

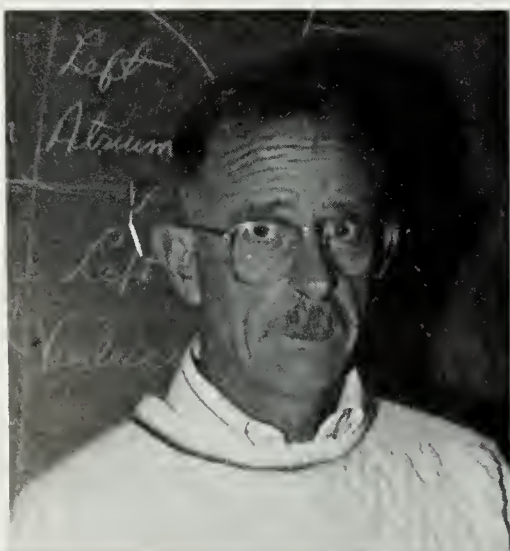

"Tie back your hair, put on your goggles, it's LAB TIME!" a continuation of the horror in science. Labs are probably the only part of a science class that anyone passes.

First is the ever-so-boring prep discussion where all of the worst stories are told from twenty years ago; you know, that time that a student burned his eyebrows because he was not wearing his safety glasses. Then after all that is over, the actual lab commences.

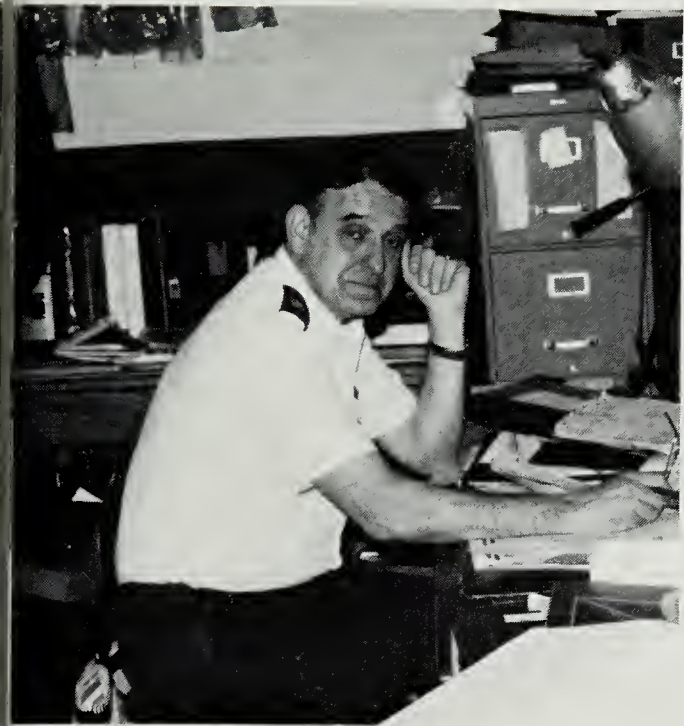

But when asked, many students say that their science classes are enjoyable. Anything from mother-in-law jokes to the dry humor of science teachers gives every student something to say about that class aside from that "F" on the report card.

Some reasons for students failing science classes may be because of the lack of good study habits, being spoon fed in middle school, not being interested, always looking for the visual point and being too lazy to read and take notes. If students would realize the importance of these habits then maybe they would not only pass science courses but others as well.

The members of the Science Department are: Mr. Warren Bennett, Mr. Joel Gray, Mrs. Joyce Corriere, Mr. Gary Holt, Mrs. Betty Long, Mr. Richard Mars, Mrs. Kathryn Morton, Mr. Laymond North, Mr. Jeffrey Roberts, Mr. Linwood Seymour, and Mr. Robert Spain.

In Step; ROTC

A.F.J.R.O.T.C. is one of the more unique departments at Hampton High School. The program, however, would be nothing without the dedication of its instructors, Major Wayne Nast and Master Sgt. Nancy Brown. They have both contributed much to the community and Hampton High. But there is much more to this military duo than is seen on the surface.

Major Wayne Nast was a state champion track runner for two years at Belleville High School in Illinois, who went on to letter in track at the two universities he attended in Illinois; there, he took Air Force and Army R.O.T.C.

Nast then served twenty years in the Air Force flying in rescue and aerial refueling aircraft as a navigator and ground training instructor. Major Nast served his country in Vietnam flying aboard electronic reconnaissance aircraft out of Pleiku, South Vietnam.

He had always wanted to teach, so after the Air Force, he added the two fields and began to teach Air Force J.R.O.T.C. "I feel I am very lucky and honored to have been associated with the students and faculty at Hampton High for the past seventeen years."

A new assistant-instructor has appeared this year, Master Sergeant Nancy Brown, who was previously stationed at Langley serving on the Inspector General's team. Her duties included traveling from state to state rating different Air Force bases on their performance.

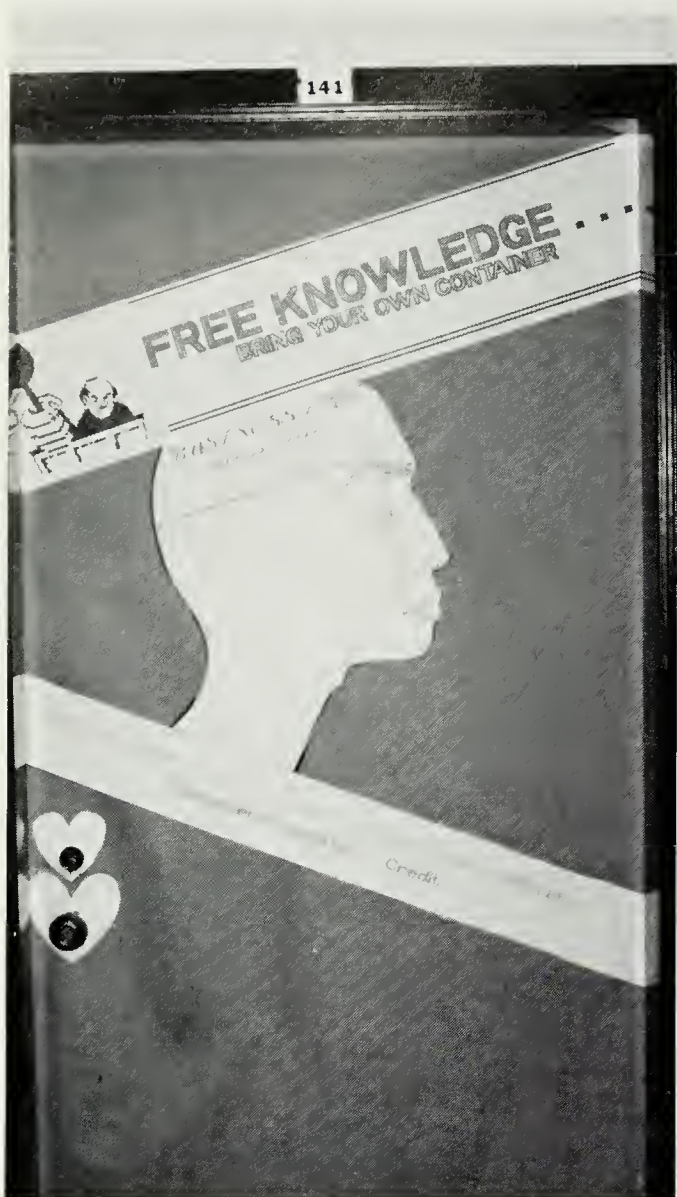

MSGT Brown attended the Community College of the Air Force. Prior to her Air Force career, she attended Jonesboro High School in Tennessee.

"I look forward to working with the students and faculty at Hampton High for years to come."

With experience and dedication as powerful as that of our J.R.O.T.C. instructors, it is no wonder why cadets come out of the class with much military bearing and knowledge. Major Nast and MSGT Brown are truly assets to our school and community.

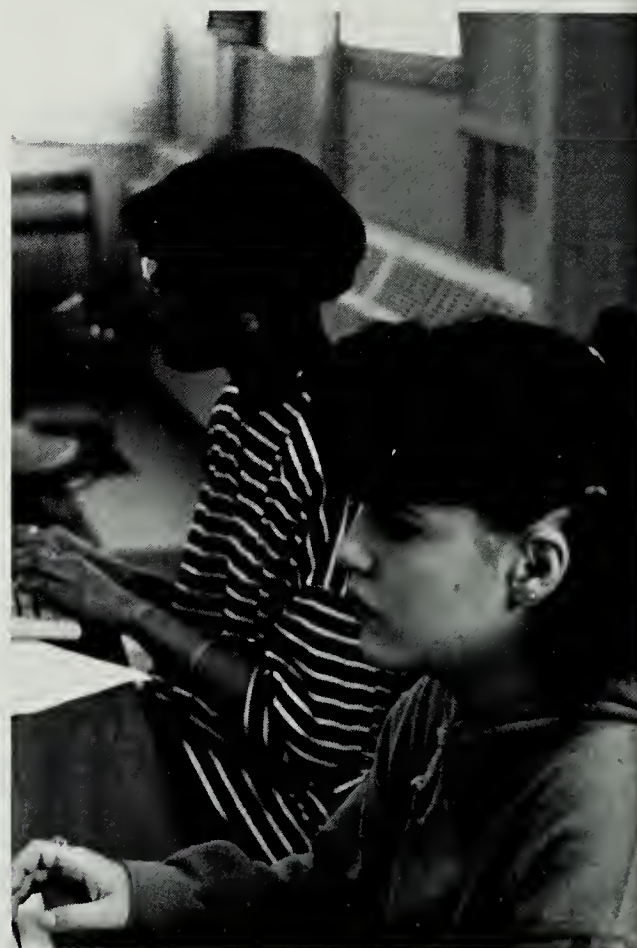

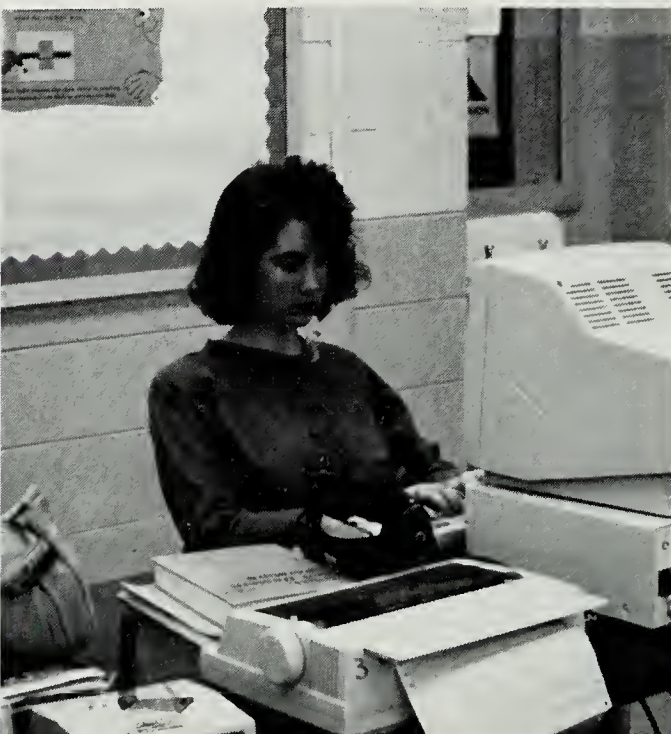

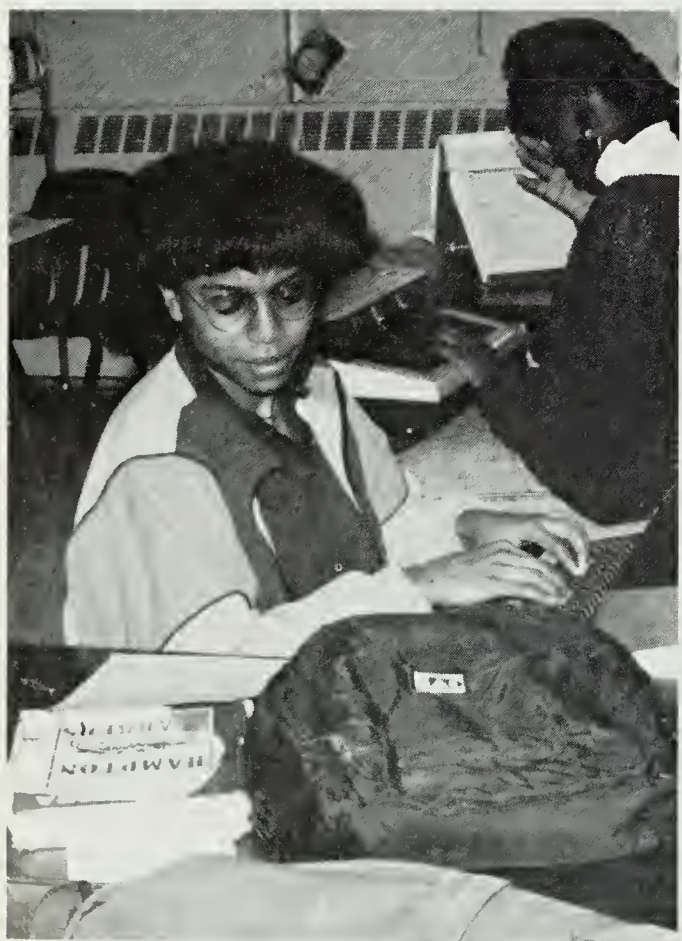

You Can't Byte This

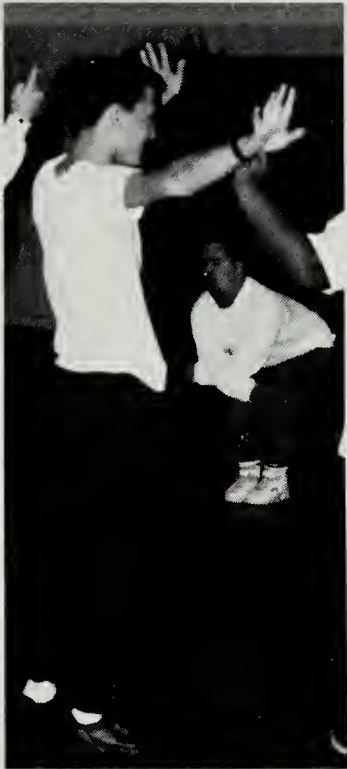

The Business Department is like no other department in this school. The staff helps students with different skills to get along in the business field. They teach business etiquette and how to dress for success, as well as word processing and business law. The teachers have a reputation for dressing up as Halloween witches and Homecoming twins for school activities.

The Department includes Mrs. Betty Bulger as Department Chairperson, Mrs. Catherine Chambers, Mrs. Elsie Cox, Mrs. Nancy Pearce, Mrs. Pauline Rice, Mrs. Pam Sanzo, Mrs. Mollie Young, and Mrs. Janice Wilson.

Of the seven business classrooms two are set-up as computer labs. The Department offers typing, accounting, record keeping, and many other exciting courses.

Adventures In Learning

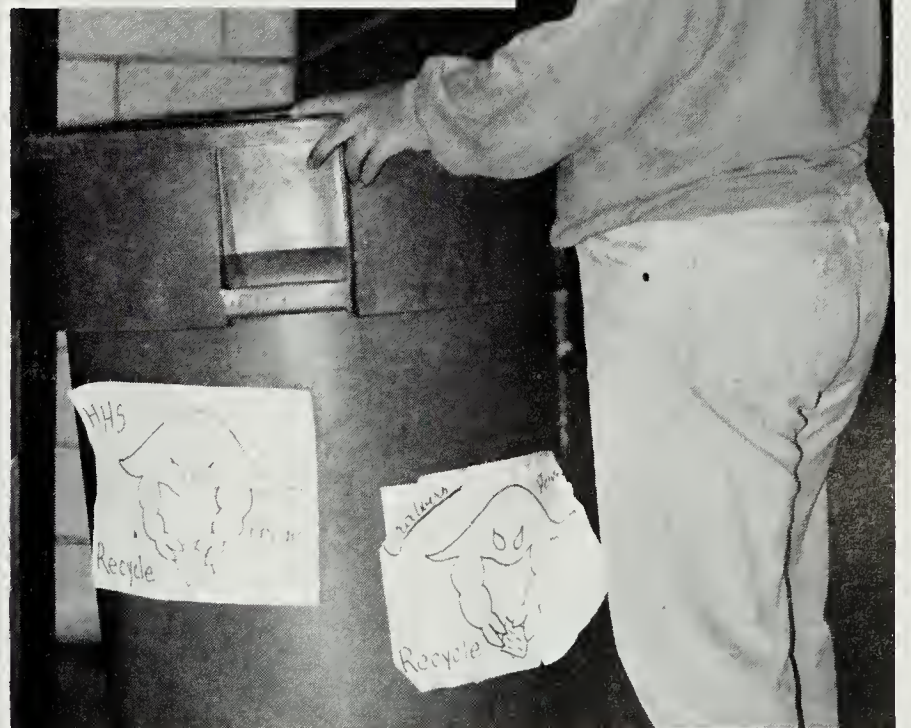

The Special Education Department's purpose is to educate students who are considered disabled mentally, physically, or emotionally. The Department works with students who have learning and emotional disabilities.

There are approximately 90-100 students who have specific teachers for the many different programs. These teachers are Alicia Dudley, Freda Gist, Pam Cook, Sharon Davis, Patricia Clark, and Barbara Blackwell. The teacher's aides are Mrs. Jenny Charity, Mrs. Mable Lewis, and Mrs. Brenda Oglesby.

The Department offers academic programs and some services for speech therapy, hearing impairment therapy. Adaptive Physical Education is also available for students with physical limitations.

The Special Education Department plans to train and guide students into some type of vocational training for life after graduation. Also, to prepare students for the working world and possibly college, the Department tries to keep the students involved. Some are involved in HHS sports, others in VICA and WECEP, which are vocational programs to develop job seeking and maintenance skills.

The Special Education Department, is in essence, an integral part of HHS.

Reading Their Way To Excellence

The Reading Department offers courses that allow students a chance to develop and refine their survival, study, thinking, reading, and aesthetic.

One activity carried out yearly is a field trip to the public library. This serves as a community resource to further a lifetime reading habit. A variety of materials, media, and machines is used to augment student interest.

The goals of the reading program are to offer a well-balanced program to meet the needs and abilities of the academic, as well as the remedial student, in a positive learning environment.

The staff includes Mrs. Marion Wright, Chairperson, Ms. Bersy Bohannon, and Mr. Anthony Evans.

Military Ball

On February 9, 1991 the ROTC held their annual Military Ball. The theme of the dance was "Love Makes Things Happen." ROTC members and their dates danced the night away. Many couples had their pictures taken to remember this special occasion. A Change of Command Ceremony was held to place new people in charge.

New leaders of the AFJROTC are Commander Jackie Jackson, Vice-Commander Linda Jones, and First Sergeant Chris Almqvist.

Sophie Trohom and Kim Young show their excitement over being a part of the ball.

Fads And Fashions

Hampton High is known to be a leading high school in many things and fashion is one of them. Morning's when most students are faced with the burning question, "What am I going to wear?"

Students at Hampton do not have to deal with these problems. They simply go into their closets filled with the latest styles and fads. After fixing themselves up they can be seen elegantly walking the hallways in fashions from dread locks to flattops, tight jeans to baggy jeans, fake jewelry to truck jewelry, boots to Bally boots, real hair to fake hair, and Reeboks, Nikes, and Champions.

Hampton, with all the different varieties of students and their choices for clothes, continues to be a leader in fashion, whether house or street wear.

The Tie

Duane Thompson and Angela McCarthy: "Four years in a relationship and we are still best friends."

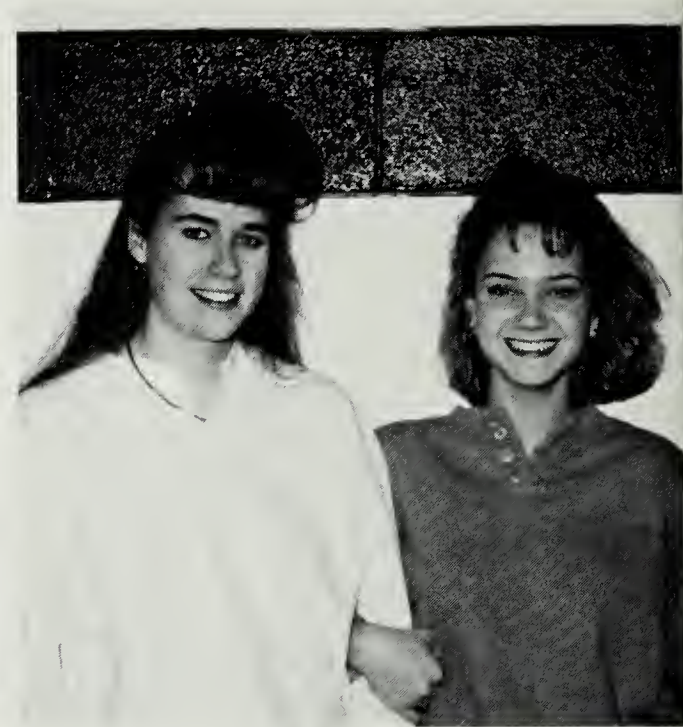

Betsy Griffin and Shonnon Manigomery: "We have loved and respected each other so long, nothing else would be natural."

Jessica Wheeler and Jodie Perway: "We've known each other for so long and been through so much its hard not to be friends."

Calleen Ryan, Erin Myers, and Jeni Peralta: "We always help each other out, and of course, always there to F-U."

Traci Smith and Fran Davenport: "Friends for five years. We live close and share lots of 'secrets'."

Rae Hilton and Van Voe: "After three years of friendship, people have just begun to realize that we are really cousins."

Friendship is something not to be taken for granted, for good friends are extremely hard to find. True friends are there through thick and thin, offering comfort and healing to the other when needed. They are dependable, loyal, and trustworthy, but most of all, they are understanding when one has a Drastic Mood Swing! (Couples can mostly relate to this if you know what I mean.)

When friends and couples are able to get through these intensive situations, they know that there must be a strong bond between the two. It is not unusual however, for the bond to be broken, but here at Hampton High, there are best friends and couples that have lasted up to five years! This may not seem like a long time for some, but to those of who think relationships are supposed to last for five days, It's A Lifetime!

That Binds . . .

Erin Durbin and Kevin Davis: "We've been together for a long time."

Monica Edwards and James Shonkin: "Our relationship grows stronger each and every day (four months)."

Syle Moore, Bobby Colfee and Scott Hermon: "Friends from the beginning. Friends to the end."

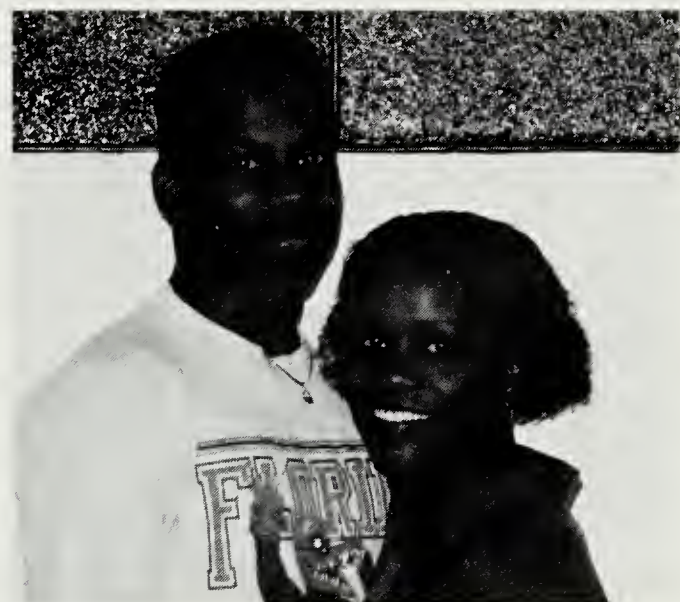

Sio Butler and Tiffany Block: "We've been best friends for six years and we've been through a lot together. Fifty years from now we will still be best friends."

Jermaine Gholson, Sean Hamler and Carlan Brown: "We've had a lot of things in common such as playing sports and pulling in the girls."

Missy Warren and Melissa Sponger: "Friends forever sharing together."

Victor Williams and Erico Holmes-Scott: "Out of so many people in one school we happened to find each other."

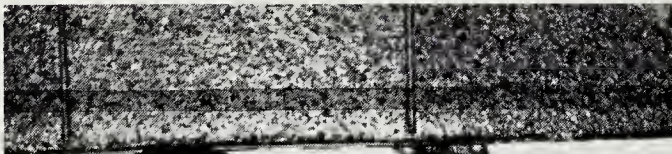

Friends Forever

Anastasia Jones and Josh Perry: "It works."

Darlene Wright and Antoinette Peoples: "We've been friends since elementary school and we will be best friends when our children get to school."

Angelo Greene and Todd Jones: "I've never shared so much with another. Todd is everything I want in a boyfriend and more."

Lorraine Curtis, Keishyo Lea and Terri Banks: "We have things in common and are always there for each other."

Sonyo Choppell and Jennifer Alexonder: "Through four years of being best friends we've always stuck together. Here's to many more years!"

Brod Davis, Kir Thomas, Gory Hepler and Stephen Krupkowski: "The weekend was too rough to come up with a quote."

THE WAR

The largest issue in 1990-91 has been the crisis in the Gulf. Saddam Hussein, president of Iraq, invaded Kuwait, a neighboring country. Iraq claimed that Kuwait was traditionally a part of Iraq. In addition, Kuwait occupied a great capacity of oil. They threatened not only the sovereignty of Kuwait but of neighboring countries such as Saudi Arabia.

If Saddam Hussein is successful in his plan, he will control one-third of the world's oil, causing an economic disaster in our country.

The issue of oil is not the only reason for U.S. determination to drive Iraq from Kuwait. Slowly the rule of Saddam Hussein has changed from president to dictator. Our country has learned from the past mistakes that a dictator, having the qualities of Saddam Hussein, must be stopped before he becomes too powerful.

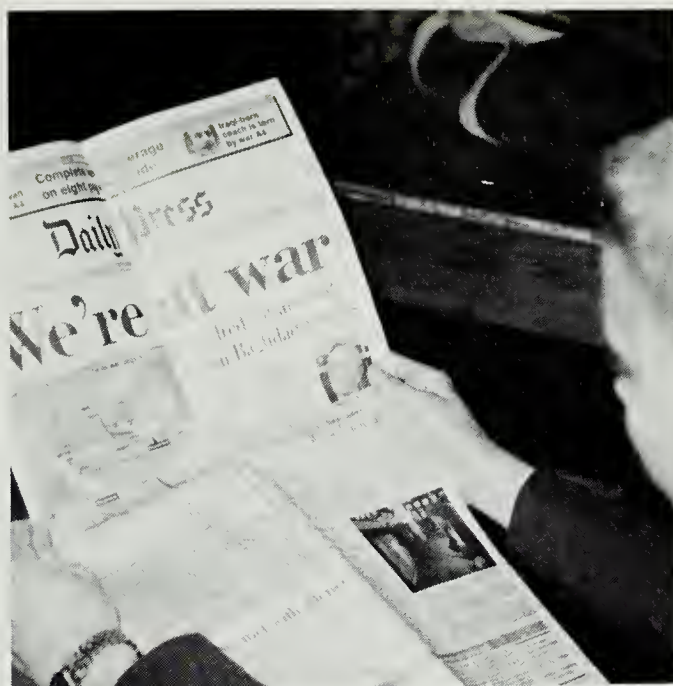

In the first week of August the U.S. began their deployment, known as Desert Shield. The date January 15, 1991 was set as the deadline for Saddam to withdraw from Kuwait.

As January 15, 1991 approached Saddam showed no movement from Kuwait, but an increase in military forces.

It is our pride as Hampton residents to acknowledge that the first TAC Fighter Wing was the first military force to be deployed to Saudi Arabia.

On January 17, 1991 Desert Storm was put in operation as the U.S. began their air campaign against Saddam Hussein and his military. Our forces began bombing targets in Kuwait and Iraq and at all extremes avoiding civilian territories.

It is the U.S. policy that the war against Iraq is not directed toward Iraqi people, but against Saddam Hussein and our determination to restore peace in the Middle East.

The Effect

Many students at HHS are family members of the deployed. This issue evokes mixed emotions and the desire for the return of their loved ones.

Jennifer Capstraw: "It certainly is different with my dad not around. His jacket is still hanging in the garage, and when I see it, I feel like crying. When he calls he seems almost foreign, but I guess that's because he has been away so long. I'm upset, angry, hurt, and a lot of things I can't explain. But he will be home soon . . ."

Shay Hirschings: "I didn't realize just how much I rely on my Dad. He left as I was just beginning the most important year of my life, my senior year! I'm angry and sad at the same time because he is not here to help me decide on future plans. I miss him a lot especially in the mornings when he wakes me up by stealing my blankets and turning on the lights. I know if he could, he would be here in a heartbeat. I'm proud of him, and I just hope he is home in time to see me walk across the stage, because I want to dedicate this year to my wonderful dad."

Joe Monsanto: "It's been a long time since I've really cried, but when my aunt, and my mother's boy friend were preparing to leave, seeing my mother cry really evoked thought. The thought that came to mind was to share sadness and destruction. Thinking about this setting made me cry because I prepared myself for the worst early. Now, I see hope, light, and chance for peace. I'm proud and scared. My aunt and I were like brother and sister; now it feels like I'm missing my right hand. That hand is missing; now I'm alone. I can't wait until they come home so they can see me walk in June 91'. This one is for them!!!

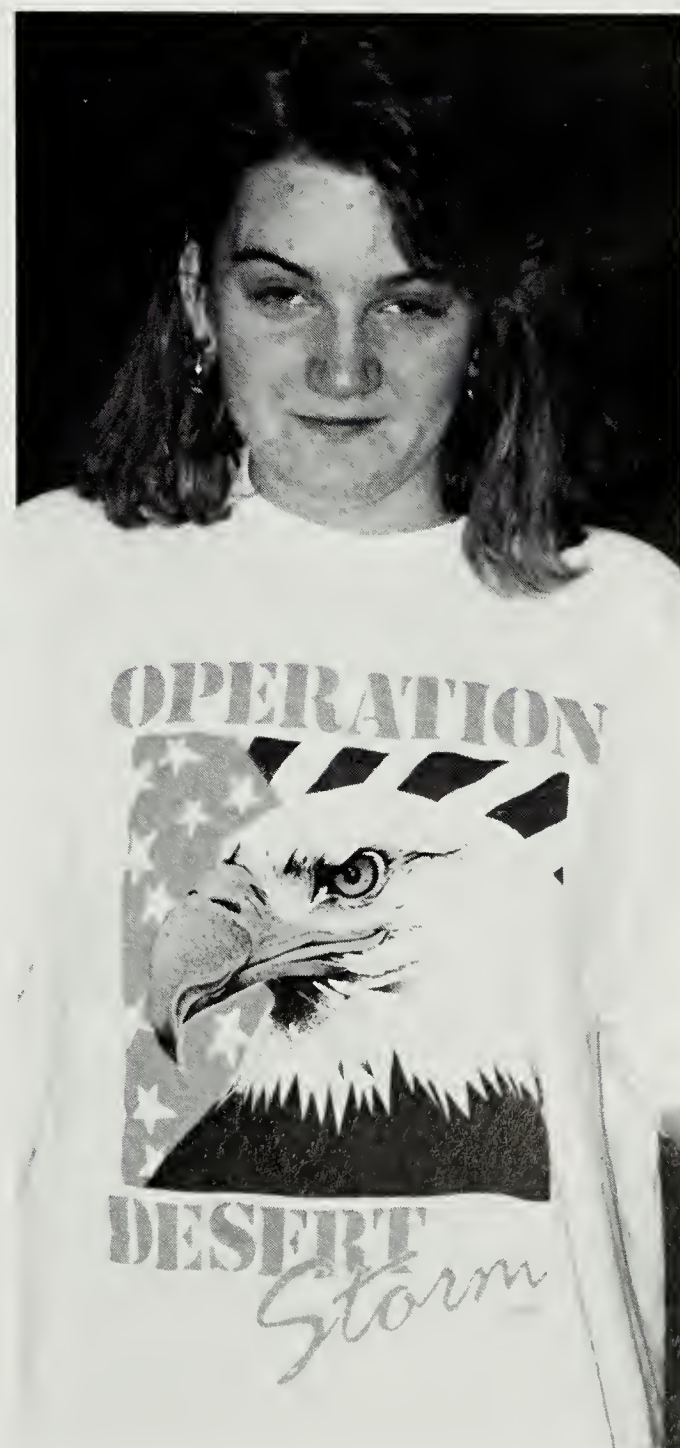

The Support

Within our school, support groups and programs have been organized for the use of students who are deeply concerned with the war in the Gulf.

Mrs. Trina Hines, the student counselor at HHS, has organized a support group that meets once a week during the school day. At least 25 immediate family members talk about feelings and do educational activities to help these students cope with the war and the absence of family members. She says, "We should support our country. We may lose valuable people, but we must have confidence."

Ms. Joyce Corriere has organized a letter writing program to deployed forces in Saudi Arabia. Over 50 students have participated, and military personnel have written back.

Many graduates from HHS have been deployed. Among the hundreds of thousands deployed are: Mark Bower, Mike Marunde, Warren Bell, Eric Lea, and Steve Hennessey (HHS Swim Coach). Godspeed Desert Storm.

EARN WHILE YOU LEARN

The Apprentice School of Newport News Shipbuilding offers four-year tuition-free apprenticeships in twenty skilled trades to qualified young men and women. Apprentices work a regular 40-hour week and are paid for all work, including time spent in academic classes.

With a full-time faculty of both academic and craft instructors, the school provides a comprehensive education and training program that is fully accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, Commission on Occupational Education Institutions.

The Apprentice School offers opportunities for participation in varsity intercollegiate athletics, intramural programs, and social, recreational, and community service activities.

☐ YES, I'm interested. Please tell me more about your Apprentice School.

KRABBA STAFF

Colophon

Jostrens Printring and Publishing Company of Clarksville, Tennessee, published volume 69 of The Krabba. The sales representative was Joe Boocks.

The press run was 192 pages including 40 pages of color. Varied sizes of Times Roman and Serif Gothic type were used for headlines, copy, captions, and folio tabs. The paper used is 80 pounds number 1 glass enamel.

The senior class and underclass portraits were taken by Sandy Hughes of LifeTouch Studios. The candid shots throughout the yearbook were taken by the Krabba Photography Staff and Grover Carrer.
